U.S. Offers Broad Plan For Disarming World

A-Weapons To Be Used Over Berlin

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — President Kennedy said Monday the United States would use any means including nuclear arms to preserve its rights in West Berlin but tempered his tough stand by offering a comprehensive disarmament program to ensure world peace.

Kennedy, in his first policy speech to the United Nations assembly, challenged Russia to a "peace race" that would call for an immediate end to nuclear testing. He said the West was not committed to a rigid formula for settling Berlin's future and suggested a free vote.

He flatly rejected Russia's "troika" plan of three secretaries general, each with veto power, to succeed the late Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. He said to do so would "replace order with anarchy, action with paralysis and confidence with confusion."

MAKES APPEAL

Appealing to the small and "uncommitted" powers to preserve the unity of the United Nations, Kennedy said:

"The secretary general, in a very real sense, is the servant of this assembly. Diminish his authority and you diminish the authority of the only body where all nations, regardless of power, are equal and sovereign. Until all the powerful are just, the weak will be secure only in the strength of this General Assembly."

Interrupted six times for applause in his 40-minute speech, the President made these other points:

—The United Nations is divided not into three forces, but two, one trying to build a peaceful world and the other seeking to undermine the organization.

— Disarmament negotiations should "resume promptly, and continue without interruption until an entire program for general and complete disarmament has not only been agreed upon but has been actually achieved."

—The United States and Britain stand ready to sign "today" a treaty "assuring the end of nuclear tests of all kinds, in every environment, under workable controls."

—All members should earmark special units in their armed forces, trained and quickly available, for use in a U.N. peace force.

Would Limit Armies, Ban Mass Killing

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States Monday submitted to the General Assembly a new arms plan calling for outlawing weapons of mass destruction and stabilizing military strength of the major powers at 2.1 million men.

The plan was submitted for assembly consideration soon after President Kennedy proposed to the delegates that "disarmament negotiations resume promptly and continue without interruption until an entire program for general and complete disarmament has not only been agreed upon but has been actually achieved."

PEACE FORCE

The proposal calls for creation of an international disarmament organization under the United Nations, elimination of weapons of mass destruction, creation of a U N peace force, establishment of a peace observation commission and restriction of outer space to peaceful uses.

Main feature of the new plan, informed sources said, was that it would call for reduction of arms as each stage of the proposal is agreed upon.

Communist China would be called upon, under the new U.S. plan, to participate in disarmament. It was not made clear, however, whether the Peiping regime would be given a voice in negotiations.

Simplified, the new plan, submitted by the United States alone

FOR GERMAN PEOPLE

Full Confidence In Allied Stand On Berlin Seen

BERLIN (AP) — President Heinrich Luebke was reported to have told Gen. Lucius D. Clay Monday that the German people have full confidence in the firmness of their Western Allies on Berlin and Germany.

At the same time, informants in the West German capital of Bonn said Soviet Premier Khrushchev has indicated he may not rush through his separate peace treaty with East Germany.

Bonn informants said Khrushchev told Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak in Moscow last Tuesday he was not committed to sign a treaty before the year runs out.

Bonn officials received this news with surprise. Khrushchev previously had stated many times he would sign such a treaty by the end of the year.

But in this connection political observers in Berlin noted that the East German propaganda machine no longer refers to any date in demanding conclusion of a German peace treaty and the turning of Berlin into a free demilitarized city.

A Bonn Foreign Office spokesman said the West German government has not been informed by the United States of any change in its policy on Berlin and the future of Germany.

The spokesman recalled an article of the 1954 agreement ending the occupation of West Germany, in which the Western powers assumed the obligation "to achieve, by peaceful means, their common aim of a reunified Germany enjoying a liberal-democratic constitution like that of the Federal Republic."

The West German public was alarmed last weekend by reports of a change in U.S. policy toward Germany, and the press warned

Rain, Wind Hit East; Fall's First

By United Press International

Autumn's first violent storm hit the eastern portion of the nation Monday night, triggering heavy downpours and winds of 65 miles an hour.

Tornado warnings were hoisted for portions of Eastern Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and Southwestern New York.

Large areas of Western Pennsylvania, including Pittsburgh, were struck by a shrieking thunderstorm that knocked down power lines, ripped the roof off an old opera house and caused minor fires.

Power lines went down all over Pittsburgh, causing danger to motorists and pedestrians. At least two motorists were trapped in cars when high-tension wires draped over the hoods.

At Greensburg, Pa., lightning touched off three "serious" fires. The Washington, Pa., hospital was forced to operate with emergency power and the Presbyterian home there had no power at all.

Unverified reports of tornadoes came from Columbus and Zanesville, Ohio.

The storms reached all the way westward into the Great Lakes region. Gale warnings went up on Lakes Michigan and Huron.

At Chicago, the locks were opened to allow the north branch of the Chicago River to release its overflow. Many suburbs reported serious flooding.

The torrential rains touched off flash floods in the Southwest and gave some sections of the Midwest their wettest month in history.

A $2\frac{1}{2}$ inch downpour sent the San Antonio River rising sharply at San Antonio, Tex. The river was reported approaching the doors of business houses and police barricaded between 40 and 50 low water crossings.

Heavy rains and hail wrecked heavy damage, especially to cotton, in the Texas south plains Sunday night and 30 families were forced to move out of their homes to higher ground at Big Spring.

Officials Study Berlin Remarks

WASHINGTON (UPI) —U.S. officials Monday were studying two cryptic remarks on the Berlin crisis made by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev last week.

The Soviet leader was said to have told Belgian Foreign Minisetr Paul-Henri Spaak that he was ready to broaden any East-West negotitions beyond the questions of Berlin and Germany.

Khrushchev also was reported to have told Spaak that he never intended to set a year-end deadline for holding such talks.

Foreign Aid May Not Pass This Session

Adjournment Seen Without Measure By District Solon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House-Senate negotiators cleared away one adjournment roadblock Monday but ran into an impasse on foreign aid spending.

Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., one of the House conferees, said Congress might have to quit for the year without agreeing on foreign aid outlays and resolve the issue after the new session begins next January.

But other conferees said the fight had been narrowed to the neighborhood of $4 billion—more than the House voted but less than the Senate approved. Several Senate negotiators said they hoped to try again Tuesday to reach a compromise.

LONG STEP

The weary lawmakers appeared to have moved a long step toward winding up the longest session in 10 years when one conference committee agreed on a compromise public works bill. The aid panel also was reported to have settled tentatively on a $3.9 billion measure to finance President Kennedy's overseas assistance program.

But Passman reported after a $2\frac{1}{2}$ hour meeting of the aid conferees, "there has been no progress." He claimed one lawmaker was blocking agreement. But Senate conferees insisted no one individual was responsible for the stand-off.

Passman said the issue might have to be settled by a so-called continuing resolution which would authorize aid expenditures at about current levels until Congress could agree on a figure next year.

The air program has been run under such a resolution since the government's bookkeeping year started July 1.

Some conferees said the fight revolved around whether to lump $106 million in unspent carryover funds and $30 million to run the Peace Corps into the $4 billion package or add it to the total.

Speaker Sees Red China's Admission

By RICHARD TYLER
World Staff Writer

An avowed political conservative, self-proclaimed as being "right of Pegler," told Monroe Jaycees Monday night Red China would get into the United Nations within 18 months.

Titling his talk "The Tragedy of Our Times," Louisiana Tech Associate Professor of English Robert C. Snyder based the forecast on the current "massive conditioning of the American people to the philosophy of defeatism."

Said Snyder, "If you pound a gullible, uncritical public long enough and hard enough with any idea, it will be accepted."

"And," he added, "when Arthur Schlesinger (an advisor to President Kennedy) and that crowd. . .get through, Red China will be in without a murmur."

Pounding on the bumbling and short - sightedness of American leadership, of the Adlai "Adelaide" Stevenson brand, and the complacency of the electorate, the speaker pointed to the loss of a total of 17 countries to the Soviet orbit since World War II.

Among them he counted Yugoslavia, Latvia, Lithuania, Albania, Estonia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, North Korea, Rumania, Tibet,

Ford Offers Union Same Package Deal

Economic Offer Copies GM; No Reply Is Made

DETROIT (AP) — Ford has made the United Auto Workers Union virtually the same economic package offer on which the union settled with General Motors Corp.

The UAW made no immediate reply. However, the union had said after its GM settlement that it would expect an improved offer from Ford. It has approved a strike at Ford if demands are not met.

The Ford offer—second in the Big Three 1961 negotiations in the auto industry—came Monday as GM slowly picked up headway in car production after a crippling two-week strike.

LOCAL ISSUES

The strike, based on local plant issues, closed virtually the entire operation of the world's biggest manufacturing firm, employing 350,000 persons.

Chrysler has yet to make an offer to the UAW.

Ford's offer, covering 165,000 hourly paid workers in 85 plants, was made to a union negotiating team headed by UAW President Walter P. Reuther.

The UAW estimates its package deal with General Motors gives workers more than 12 cents an hour in additional take-home pay. The auto industry average pay has been $2.80 an hour.

Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president-labor relations, presented the company's proposal in documented form.

In an accompanying letter Ford made its offer contingent upon "peaceful conclusion of new agreements—national and local—within the next two weeks and ratification within a mutually agreed upon time thereafter." The union's rank-and-file membership votes on all its contracts.

Ford offered to keep in effect the current agreement with the UAW which expired Aug. 31 but has been kept effective since.

Retirement Talked By Adenauer

LONDON (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, 85, told a British TV audience Monday night he is thinking of retiring. "I have no intention of having four more years. I have had enough," said the West German leader.

The chancellor was featured briefly in the TV news program "Panorama", broadcast weekly to a British audience of millions.

He made his reference to retirement after being asked how long he would stay in office if re-elected chancellor.

Interviewed on the same program, West German Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss said many people thought it would be a good thing if Adenauer established a new Cabinet and guaranteed a transition to another chancellor who would—"according to firm conviction"—be Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard.

Adenauer and Strauss expressed their views in prerecorded statements.

The chancellor was busy in Bonn working out preliminaries for the possible formation of a national coalition government in West Germany. His Christian Democratic party lost its Bundestag (lower house) majority in the Sept. 17 general election and must find outside support to stay in power.

Program officials who arranged for the recordings were not immediately available, but a BBC spokesman said he believed they were made "only a few days ago, that is, after the West German election."

Move Pushed To Halt Trade With Cubans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal investigators are rising to block off a number of secret operations through which American goods have been moving illegally to Cuba.

The government has intercepted shipments valued at $500,000. In addition, American manufacturers have been persuaded to refuse $250,000 worth of orders allegedly destined for Cuba via roundabout routes.

Three or four separate groups which allegedly have set up secret pipelines, a number of them in Mexico, have been investigated by the Commerce Department and the Bureau of Customs. The department is expected to start proceedings against these groups soon with the aim of barring them from handling any U.S. exports.

In most cases, American manufacturers apparently are unaware that their foreign customers are Cuban agents. They believe the orders come from legitimate buyers.

Partly Cloudy, Cooler Today

The weatherman predicts partly cloudy skies through tonight with the temperatures not so warm in most sections today and tonight.

The high in the Twin Cities is expected to range between 75 and 80 degrees.

Yesterday's weather showed partly cloudy to cloudy skies with a light rain in some parts of the city. The federal Aviation Agency at Selman Field reports the high temperature at 89 degrees and the low at 67 degrees.

GOP Solons Laud Speech Before U.N.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional Republicans put aside criticism of President Kennedy's foreign policy Monday and joined Democrats in praising his speech to the United Nations as a road map toward peace.

Applauding Kennedy for laying out a "magnificent hope" of peace, Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen said the future still depended on the Communists response.

SPECIAL PRAISE

The Illinois Republican, who has criticized administration foreign policy in the past, especially praised Kennedy's firm stand on Berlin and on the need for a one-man replacement for the late U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Sen. Hugh Scott, Pa., former GOP national chairman, said the President had challenged the conscience of mankind. He said the United Nations could be saved as an instrument of peace if leaders of the "uncertain nations" faced Kennedy's proposals with maturity and wisdom.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R - N.Y. said Kennedy "reflected the essentials of the bipartisan foreign policy and will accordingly get united support at home." He said the speech "should put at rest any question as to U.S. determination to defend freedom's fundamental rights by all the force it will command, including nuclear means if need be."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y. said the speech "bore the imprint of responsible statesmanship." He expressed disappointment, however, that the President failed to mention the question of admitting Red China to the United Nations.

The GOP praise contrasted with recent criticism of Kennedy's foreign policy by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican National Chairman William E. Miller, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, and others.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey charged Sunday that Miller and other Republicans were dividing and confusing the nation in a time of grave crisis in an irresponsible effort to win votes.

Senator Soaper Says

The government's big laboratory for investigating space will be established in Texas where, say what you will, there is a lot of the stuff.

An acquaintance in the football coaching profession writes that he is either going to get some bigger tackles or some funnier jokes.

Whether or not the United Nations has a successful season, it must be admitted that it's playing what may be its toughest schedule.

So live that when a successor comes to fill your vacancy he will find that you left one.

AT STRATEGY MEET

Kennedy Address Praised By GOP

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower and three top Republican politicos listened to President Kennedy's speech to the United Nations and then talked over ways of beating the Democrats in the 1962 congressional election.

Gathered around the radio in the office of the former president on the campus of Gettysburg College were Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, and Rep. Bob Wilson of California.

They came out of their meeting with carefully measured praise of Kennedy's address and predictions that the Republicans are going to make definite inroads next year on Democratic majorities in the Senate and House.

CAMPAIGN LEADER

Goldwater is chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, as well as the leading conservative prospect at this point as GOP presidential timber in 1964. Miller is Republican national chairman. Wilson heads the House Republican Campaign Committee.

Both Eisenhower and Miller have been jabbed lately at Kennedy's foreign policy. But all those present Monday agreed, they said, that the President bespoke the aspirations of all Americans. Kennedy called for a truce to terror and a point-by-point plan for world disarmament, beginning with a controlled ban on nuclear tests.

Eisenhower and Miller both said that Kennedy was on the same grounds that the American government has stood upon—they meant in the Eisenhower administration.

Standing on the front steps of the red brick house where he has his headquarters, Eisenhower told reporters who sought his reaction to the Kennedy speech: "As Chairman Miller expressed it, we found he was summing up and expressing very eloquently the aspirations of the American people for the last years."

Algerian Students In Riots

ALGIERS (UPI) — Rioting students barricaded downtown Algiers streets with captured buses Monday night in a screaming demonstration for a "French Algeria." Police and troops finally quelled the rioting after menacing the demonstrators with machine guns.

Thousands of riot police wielded clubs and turned pressure hoses spurting blue - dyed water on the students who turned out several hundred strong in a demonstration called by the Secret Army Organization (OAS).

The rioting started when police moved in to tear down black flags of the right-wing underground "Secret Army." The clash-and-run tussle between police and students continued until after dark.

There were no reports of casualties but at least eight persons were arrested.

Soldiers, menacing the rioters with machine guns placed at strategic city corners, managed to avoid major violence.

The rioting reached a climax when a band seized a city bus and drove it to an intersection of the Rue Michelet, Algiers' main street.

The youths flung the bus sideways across the street and punctured its tires to form a barricade. They reinforced the barricade a few minutes later with another captured bus.

Reporter Outlines Katanga Surrender

EDITOR'S NOTE:—(AP) — Correspondent Colin Frost has made his way to Jadotville, in the secessionist Congo province of Katanga, and obtained the inside story of the U.N. Irish troop surrender and what led to it. His dispatch follows.

By COLIN FROST

JADOTVILLE, the Congo (AP) —Commandant Patrick Quinlan, senior officer of 190 U.N. personnel held prisoner in this Katanga stronghold, sat at a sidewalk table under the awning of his hotel prison camp Monday and reported "Everything is fine."

Across the sunbaked street Katangan parachute troops in red berets and camouflage uniforms kept watch from the front of requisitioned cafes. Others manned roadblocks at one end of the street.

Despite the troop presence and prisoners, this was the most relaxed part of the town. The rest of the European quarter seemed virtually empty because Africans failed to show up this morning after a night of rioting in the African township.

I reached Jadotville after a six-hour drive over bush tracks from Kipushi on Katanga's border with Northern Rhodesia. The main road was reported impassable because of U.N. roadblocks.

Rifle fire crackled out over the African quarter as the gendarmerie fired in the air to break up fighting between rival African tribes. Trucks ferried arrested Africans into military headquarters.

Neutrality Difficult For Laos

NEW YORK (AP)—Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia told President Kennedy Monday that peace will be difficult to obtain and neutrality hard to establish in Laos.

Sihanouk called on Kennedy at the President's hotel headquarters.

Sihanouk told newsmen afterward that his country adopts the same position as expressed by Kennedy in the President's U. N. address toward complete and general disarmament.

"With controls," the Cambodian chief of state emphasized.

Prince Sihanouk was one of the steady stream of visitors in Kennedy's suite after the President had discussed hemispheric problems with Latin-American officials at a luncheon given by Secretary of State Dean Rusk. The luncheon was held in U. N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson's hotel apartment, and attended by nearly 40 Latin-American leaders and U. S. diplomats.

Stevenson later conferred with Kennedy at the President's quarters in the Hotel Carlyle. He told newsmen he had found "nothing but universal and enthusiastic approval" of Kennedy's U. N. address.

Kennedy's talk had a "marked effect on all delegates with whom I have talked," Stevenson said. Particularly impressive, he added, were Kennedy's proposals on step-by-step achievement of general disarmament and the preservation of a strong U. N. executive.

Sihanouk, who brought gifts from his homeland to President and Mrs. Kennedy, said he and the President talked over Southeast Asian problems. Asked about the prospects for peace in restive Laos, the prince said this is still a difficult goal to achieve.

Until all the powerful are just, the weak will be secure only in the strength of this General Assembly."

Interrupted six times for applause in his 40-minute speech, the President made these other points:

—The United Nations is divided not into three forces, but two, one trying to build a peaceful world and the other seeking to undermine the organization.

— Disarmament negotiations should "resume promptly, and continue without interruption until an entire program for general and complete disarmament has not only been agreed upon but has been actually achieved."

—The United States and Britain stand ready to sign "today" a treaty "assuring the end of nuclear tests of all kinds, in every environment, under workable controls."

—All members should earmark special units in their armed forces, trained and quickly available, for use in a U.N. peace force.

Move Pushed To Halt Trade With Cubans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal investigators are rising to block off a number of secret operations through which American goods have been moving illegally to Cuba.

The government has intercepted shipments valued at $500,000. In addition, American manufacturers have been persuaded to refuse $250,000 worth of orders allegedly destined for Cuba via roundabout routes.

Three or four separate groups which allegedly have set up secret pipelines, a number of them in Mexico, have been investigated by the Commerce Department and the Bureau of Customs. The department is expected to start proceedings against these groups soon with the aim of barring them from handling any U.S. exports.

In most cases, American manufacturers apparently are unaware that their foreign customers are Cuban agents. They believe the orders come from legitimate buyers.

Partly Cloudy, Cooler Today

The weatherman predicts partly cloudy skies through tonight with the temperatures not so warm in most sections today and tonight.

The high in the Twin Cities is expected to range between 75 and 80 degrees.

Yesterday's weather showed partly cloudy to cloudy skies with a light rain in some parts of the city. The federal Aviation Agency at Selman Field reports the high temperature at 89 degrees and the low at 67 degrees.

GOP Solons Laud Speech Before U.N.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional Republicans put aside criticism of President Kennedy's foreign policy Monday and joined Democrats in praising his speech to the United Nations as a road map toward peace.

Applauding Kennedy for laying out a "magnificent hope" of peace, Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen said the future still depended on the Communists response.

SPECIAL PRAISE

The Illinois Republican, who has criticized administration foreign policy in the past, especially praised Kennedy's firm stand on Berlin and on the need for a one-man replacement for the late U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Sen. Hugh Scott, Pa., former GOP national chairman, said the President had challenged the conscience of mankind. He said the United Nations could be saved as an instrument of peace if leaders of the "uncertain nations" faced Kennedy's proposals with maturity and wisdom.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R - N.Y. said Kennedy "reflected the essentials of the bipartisan foreign policy and will accordingly get united support at home." He said the speech "should put at rest any question as to U.S. determination to defend freedom's fundamental rights by all the force it will command, including nuclear means if need be."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y. said the speech "bore the imprint of responsible statesmanship." He expressed disappointment, however, that the President failed to mention the question of admitting Red China to the United Nations.

The GOP praise contrasted with recent criticism of Kennedy's foreign policy by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican National Chairman William E. Miller, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, and others.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey charged Sunday that Miller and other Republicans were dividing and confusing the nation in a time of grave crisis in an irresponsible effort to win votes.

Senator Soaper Says

The government's big laboratory for investigating space will be established in Texas where, say what you will, there is a lot of the stuff.

An acquaintance in the football coaching profession writes that he is either going to get some bigger tackles or some funnier jokes.

Whether or not the United Nations has a successful season, it must be admitted that it's playing what may be its toughest schedule.

So live that when a successor comes to fill your vacancy he will find that you left one.

AT STRATEGY MEET

Kennedy Address Praised By GOP

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower and three top Republican politicos listened to President Kennedy's speech to the United Nations and then talked over ways of beating the Democrats in the 1962 congressional election.

Gathered around the radio in the office of the former president on the campus of Gettysburg College were Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, and Rep. Bob Wilson of California.

They came out of their meeting with carefully measured praise of Kennedy's address and predictions that the Republicans are going to make definite inroads next year on Democratic majorities in the Senate and House.

CAMPAIGN LEADER

Goldwater is chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, as well as the leading conservative prospect at this point as GOP presidential timber in 1964. Miller is Republican national chairman. Wilson heads the House Republican Campaign Committee.

Both Eisenhower and Miller have been jabbed lately at Kennedy's foreign policy. But all those present Monday agreed, they said, that the President bespoke the aspirations of all Americans. Kennedy called for a truce to terror and a point-by-point plan for world disarmament, beginning with a controlled ban on nuclear tests.

Eisenhower and Miller both said that Kennedy was on the same grounds that the American government has stood upon—they meant in the Eisenhower administration.

Standing on the front steps of the red brick house where he has his headquarters, Eisenhower told reporters who sought his reaction to the Kennedy speech: "As Chairman Miller expressed it, we found he was summing up and expressing very eloquently the aspirations of the American people for the last years."

Algerian Students In Riots

ALGIERS (UPI) — Rioting students barricaded downtown Algiers streets with captured buses Monday night in a screaming demonstration for a "French Algeria." Police and troops finally quelled the rioting after menacing the demonstrators with machine guns.

Thousands of riot police wielded clubs and turned pressure hoses spurting blue - dyed water on the students who turned out several hundred strong in a demonstration called by the Secret Army Organization (OAS).

The rioting started when police moved in to tear down black flags of the right-wing underground "Secret Army." The clash-and-run tussle between police and students continued until after dark.

There were no reports of casualties but at least eight persons were arrested.

Soldiers, menacing the rioters with machine guns placed at strategic city corners, managed to avoid major violence.

The rioting reached a climax when a band seized a city bus and drove it to an intersection of the Rue Michelet, Algiers' main street.

The youths flung the bus sideways across the street and punctured its tires to form a barricade. They reinforced the barricade a few minutes later with another captured bus.

Reporter Outlines Katanga Surrender

EDITOR'S NOTE:—(AP) — Correspondent Colin Frost has made his way to Jadotville, in the secessionist Congo province of Katanga, and obtained the inside story of the U.N. Irish troop surrender and what led to it. His dispatch follows.

By COLIN FROST

JADOTVILLE, the Congo (AP) —Commandant Patrick Quinlan, senior officer of 190 U.N. personnel held prisoner in this Katanga stronghold, sat at a sidewalk table under the awning of his hotel prison camp Monday and reported "Everything is fine."

Across the sunbaked street Katangan parachute troops in red berets and camouflage uniforms kept watch from the front of requisitioned cafes. Others manned roadblocks at one end of the street.

Despite the troop presence and prisoners, this was the most relaxed part of the town. The rest of the European quarter seemed virtually empty because Africans failed to show up this morning after a night of rioting in the African township.

I reached Jadotville after a six-hour drive over bush tracks from Kipushi on Katanga's border with Northern Rhodesia. The main road was reported impassable because of U.N. roadblocks.

Rifle fire crackled out over the African quarter as the gendarmerie fired in the air to break up fighting between rival African tribes. Trucks ferried arrested Africans into military headquarters.

The U.N. prisoners are 180 Irish soldiers and 1 Irish civilian,

Would Limit Armies, Ban Mass Killing

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States Monday submitted to the General Assembly a new arms plan calling for outlawing weapons of mass destruction and stabilizing military strength of the major powers at 2.1 million men.

The plan was submitted for assembly consideration soon after President Kennedy proposed to the delegates that "disarmament negotiations resume promptly and continue without interruption until an entire program for general and complete disarmament has not only been agreed upon but has been actually achieved."

PEACE FORCE

The proposal calls for creation of an international disarmament organization under the United Nations, elimination of weapons of mass destruction, creation of a U.N. peace force, establishment of a peace observation commission and restriction of outer space to peaceful uses.

Main feature of the new plan, informed sources said, was that it would call for reduction of arms as each stage of the proposal is agreed upon.

Communist China would be called upon, under the new U.S. plan, to participate in disarmament. It was not made clear, however, whether the Peiping regime would be given a voice in negotiations.

Simplified, the new plan, submitted by the United States alone

Neutrality Difficult For Laos

NEW YORK (AP)—Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia told President Kennedy Monday that peace will be difficult to obtain and neutrality hard to establish in Laos.

Sihanouk called on Kennedy at the President's hotel headquarters.

Sihanouk told newsmen afterward that his country adopts the same position as expressed by Kennedy in the President's U. N. address toward complete and general disarmament.

"With controls," the Cambodian chief of state emphasized.

Prince Sihanouk was one of the steady stream of visitors in Kennedy's suite after the President had discussed hemispheric problems with Latin-American officials at a luncheon given by Secretary of State Dean Rusk. The luncheon was held in U. N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson's hotel apartment, and attended by nearly 40 Latin-American leaders and U. S. diplomats.

Stevenson later conferred with Kennedy at the President's quarters in the Hotel Carlyle. He told newsmen he had found "nothing but universal and enthusiastic approval" of Kennedy's U. N. address.

Kennedy's talk had a "marked effect on all delegates with whom I have talked," Stevenson said. Particularly impressive, he added, were Kennedy's proposals on step-by-step achievement of general disarmament and the preservation of a strong U. N. executive.

Sihanouk, who brought gifts from his homeland to President and Mrs. Kennedy, said he and the President talked over Southeast Asian problems. Asked about the prospects for peace in restive Laos, the prince said this is still a difficult goal to achieve.

Speaker Sees Red China's Admission

mainland China and Cuba.

Most serious of the losses, in the opinion of Snyder, are China and Cuba. In dealing with the mess of American diplomacy in Cuba, the speaker laid emphasis on the recent statement of new Texas Republican Senator John Tower who said, "The only answer . . . is six divisions of Marines."

Associated with the Ruston college since 1947, Snyder declined to affiliate himself with any party. "I'm above both," he said. One of the area's most prolific spokesmen for conservatism, he is in the midst of an extensive tour of speaking engagements which will take him throughout north Louisiana. He meets with a Jena civic club tonight.

In his free ranging remarks to the Jaycees, he touched on virtually every controversial topic making today's headlines. He said his opinions were his own and he feared no one except some of the hoodlums walking the streets of the country today.

"I'm not afraid to talk," he said, in one of the few comments turned to produce smiles, "If I get in trouble, the Civil Liberties Union will defend me."

He had few kind words for the United Nations. "Idealistically it's fine, pragmatically it's not worth a thing."

Borrowing a phrase, Snyder called "the most effective role of the UN, the redistribution of American wealth and trade markets among member nations."

He attacked the rise of the so-called neutralist, though often left-leaning, bloc within the UN, and voiced particular disapproval for the recent call upon President Kennedy of representatives of non - aligned nations, urging that the U.S. not resume nuclear testing.

"Let us resume not only underground testing, but airbursts as well and immediately, and hope it's in time."

Snyder called one of the principal reasons for the predicament of the United States in both world and domestic affairs, the failure of the national educational system. "It no longer provides as an umbilical cord to the past," he said, "Graduates of modern schools are but actors in the catastrophe of our civilization."

"It's not Harvard I'm worried about, it's all the little Harvards across the nation," he added, flatly rejecting what he called the general unwillingness to allow the voicing of conservative principles.

Pair Released On Bonds In Sales On Sunday

Two men were released under $750 bonds yesterday after being charged by the sheriff's department with selling alcoholic beverages on Sunday.

Sheriff Bailey Grant identified them as Poincare Rabun, owner of the R & R Package Store, Whites' Ferry Road, West Monroe, and Ellis Lynn Bearden, 31, who was operating the store Sunday. Both gave their addresses as General Delivery, Farmerville.

They are charged with selling six cans of beer to a man, who later identified himself as a deputy with the Ouachita Parish sheriff's department. He entered the store from the rear, asked for the beer, purchased it and left.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a Texas firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If your symptoms indicate that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. This is all the more remarkable in light of the fact that the great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped. But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if [illegible] may seem to run in [illegible] it is certainly no [illegible] the cause of YOUR hair [illegible]

[illegible] there are [illegible] scalp disorders that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until your are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. If you still have hair (or at least some fuzz) on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to act.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them information to help them analyze your problem. The information should include how long your hair has been thinning and whether or not you now have or ever have had any of the following conditions: Do you have dandruff? Is it dry or oily? whether your scalp erupts in pimples or other irritations, does your forehead become oily or greasy, does your scalp itch and how often, and any other information you think might be helpful. All letters will be answered promptly. Send the above information and your name and address to Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Box [illegible], Houston [illegible], Texas. Adv.

The Luebke-Clay talks were confidential. Neither German nor U.S. officials would officially disclose what was discussed at Bellevue Castle, Luebke's Berlin residence.

Pressed for information on the talks, informants referred to Luebke's speech Sunday when he asserted that Clay had come to Berlin to defend and not to surrender it.

Luebke flew back to Bonn. He likely will tell Chancellor Konrad Adenauer what he saw and heard during his three-day stay in Berlin.

Unconfirmed reports correlated that East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht also had flown to Moscow. His purpose, the reports said, was to discuss the German and Berlin situation with Khrushchev.

West Berlin police reported Monday that three East Berliners, one carrying a 9-month-old daughter, slipped through the border barbed wire at Reinickendor, in the north of Berlin.

Communist police fired a warning shot but the refugees reached West Berlin safely.

after Britain, France and Washington's other allies, including West Germany, had been "thoroughly advised," calls for disarmament in three stages.

Stage I envisaged:

—Establishment of an International Disarmament Organization (IDO) "with representatives of all the major powers as permanent members and certain other states on a rotating basis" to verify the carrying out of agreed disarmament measures.

—Reduction of military manpower levels to 2.1 million each "for the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. and to appropriate levels not exceeding 2.1 million each for all other military significant states."

—Reduction of "armaments of prescribed types" by equitable and balanced steps. Armaments would be transferred to depots and destroyed when all countries had agreed armaments and armed forces were at the prescribed level.

—Creation of a Chemical, Biological and Radiological (CBR) experts committee to examine means of elimination of such weapons.

—Agreement by all countries on a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests, with production of fissionable material for weapons use to be stopped and such material to be transferred to peaceful uses under the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA).

—Prohibition of launching into space of vehicles capable of mass destruction.

—Creation of a U.N. peace force and a peace observation group to investigate any situation that could lead to war.

Stage II:

—Enlargement of powers and responsibilities of the IDO.

—Further reduction of all arms and manpower in "equitable and balanced steps" with dismantling or conversion of military bases to peaceful uses and conversion of chemical, bacteriological and radiological weapons to peaceful uses.

—Reduction of nuclear arms and vehicles for their delivery to minimum levels.

Stage III:

—"Progressive controlled disarmament and continuously developing principles and procedures of international law would proceed to a point where no state would have the military power to challenge the progressively strengthened U.N. peace force."

—Countries would retain only forces and non - nuclear armaments and establishments necessary to maintain internal order and contribute to the U.N. peace force.

—Manufacture of armaments for other purposes would be prohibited.

—"The peace - keeping capabilities of the United Nations would be sufficiently strong and the obligations of all states under such arrangements sufficiently far-reaching as to assure the peace and the just settlement of differences in a disarmed world."

Professor Has Book Accepted For Publication

Dr. Nollie W. Hickman, associate professor of history at Norheast Louisiana State College, has had a book accepted for publication by the Paragon Press of Montgomery, Ala.

Dr. Hickman returned the galley proofs on Monday and said the publication date had been set near the first of the year.

Sponsored by the University of Mississippi, the Forest History Products Foundation of Minneapolis, and the Mississippi Foresters Association of Jackson, the book is entitled "Mississippi Harvest—The History of Forest Industries in the Longleaf Pine Belt of Mississippi from 1849 to 1915."

Dr. Hickman has contributed numerous articles to national and regional publications, among them "Logging and Rafting in Mississippi" and "Mississippi Lumber Industry" in the Journal of Mississippi History, and "History of Lumbering" in Southern Lumberman.

Dr. Hickman received his B.S. degree in 1934 from Mississippi Southern, his M.A. degree from the University of Mississippi in 1948, and his Ph.D. degree from the University of Texas in 1953.

Before coming to Northeast State, he taught history at Perkinson Junior College, the University of Tennessee, and at Florence State College.

6 Italian Red Cross officers, 2 Swedes and 1 Norwegian.

Quinlan reported that all five men wounded in the Jadotville battle that ended with the surrender of the entire company of the Irish 35th Battalion now are recovering well. He said the prisoners are getting good food and good treatment generally.

Lars Froberg, U.N. interpreter from Sjomarken, Sweden, was captured with the Jadotville Irish. He said "they put up a great fight. These are very young soldiers but they kept going with great spirit even though short of water and food."

Quinlan said the Irishmen's main handicap in the Jadotville fighting was lack of advance warning from the United Nations that a military operation was to start in an attempt to reunite Katanga with the rest of the Congo.

Honor Noted For Duckworth

BASTROP (Special) — W. L. Duckworth, administrator of Morehouse General Hospital, is in Atlantic City, N.J., to accept a nomineeship as a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators.

This is the 53rd annual meeting of the American Hospital Association. Theme of the meeting is "Hospitals in a Changing America."

The session ends Thursday.

Negro Seeking New Trial In Assault Case

BASTROP (Special) — October 23 is the date asked by Asst. Dist. Atty. Joe Rolfe White for the second trial of Emmett Henderson. Henderson, a 49-year-old Negro from Mer Rouge, was convicted April 24, 1958, of aggravated rape of a white woman who lived east of Mer Rouge.

The offense occured June 8, 1956.

Henderson and attorneys for him appeared in Fourth District Court here Monday asking a new trial.

Shortly after Henderson was convicted in 1958, he was taken to a mental institution at Jackson and released Sept. 5, 1960, and returned to Morehouse Parish officials.

He also spent time at Jackson prior to his sentencing shortly after he was apprehended.

District Judge Mack Barham said all the records pertaining to the case would be reviewed in preparation for the hearing on the motion for a new trial.

Speaker Sees Red China's Admission

mainland China and Cuba.

Most serious of the losses, in the opinion of Snyder, are China and Cuba. In dealing with the mess of American diplomacy in Cuba, the speaker laid emphasis on the recent statement of new Texas Republican Senator John Tower who said, "The only answer . . . is six divisions of Marines."

Associated with the Ruston college since 1947, Snyder declined to affiliate himself with any party. "I'm above both," he said. One of the area's most prolific spokesmen for conservatism, he is in the midst of an extensive tour of speaking engagements which will take him throughout north Louisiana. He meets with a Jena civic club tonight.

In his free ranging remarks to the Jaycees, he touched on virtually every controversial topic making today's headlines. He said his opinions were his own and he feared no one except some of the hoodlums walking the streets of the country today.

"I'm not afraid to talk," he said, in one of the few comments turned to produce smiles, "If I get in trouble, the Civil Liberties Union will defend me."

He had few kind words for the United Nations. "Idealistically it's fine, pragmatically it's not worth a thing."

Borrowing a phrase, Snyder called "the most effective role of the UN, the redistribution of American wealth and trade markets among member nations."

He attacked the rise of the so-called neutralist, though often left-leaning, bloc within the UN, and voiced particular disapproval for the recent call upon President Kennedy of representatives of non - aligned nations, urging that the U.S. not resume nuclear testing.

"Let us resume not only underground testing, but airbursts as well, and immediately, and hope it's in time."

Snyder called one of the principal reasons for the predicament of the United States in both world and domestic affairs, the failure of the national educational system. "It no longer provides us an umbilical cord to the past," he said, "Graduates of modern schools are but actors in the catastrophe of our civilization."

"It's not Harvard I'm worried about, it's all the little Harvards across the nation," he added, flatly rejecting what he called the general unwillingness to allow the voicing of conservative principles.

Fryar Will Speak

FERRIDAY (Special) — Joe E. Fryar Jr., an architect of Pineville, will speak to the Ferriday Rotary Club on "The VaVlues of Architecture," Friday Nov. 29. The club here meets at Brocato's Cafe at 12:00 noon each Friday.

Pair Released On Bonds In Sales On Sunday

Two men were released under $750 bonds yesterday after being charged by the sheriff's department with selling alcoholic beverages on Sunday.

Sheriff Bailey Grant identified them as Poincare Rabun, owner of the R & R Package Store, Whites' Ferry Road, West Monroe, and Ellis Lynn Bearden, 31, who was operating the store Sunday. Both gave their addresses as General Delivery, Farmerville.

They are charged with selling six cans of beer to a man, who later identified himself as a deputy with the Ouachita Parish sheriff's department. He entered the store from the rear, asked for the beer, purchased it and left.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a Texas firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If your symptoms indicate that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. This is all the more remarkable in light of the fact that the great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped. But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Actually, there are 18 scalp disorders that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until your are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. If you still have hair (or at least some fuzz) on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to act.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them information to help them analyze your problem. This information should include how long your hair has been thinning, and whether or not you now have or ever have had any of the following conditions: Do you have dandruff? Is it dry or oily? whether your scalp erupts in pimples or other irritations, does your forehead become oily or greasy? does your scalp itch and how often? and any other information you feel might be helpful. All letters will be answered promptly. Send the above information, and your name and address to Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Box 66001, Houston 6, Texas. Adv.

Four Draw Fines Yesterday In District Court

Four persons were fined in Fourth District Court Monday, and a Monroe man pled innocent to a driving charge.

Judge Jesse Heard levied fines of $25 plus court costs on:

Adrian Smith, 42, Clayton, charged with reckless driving.

Nina Mae Alexander, 49, Negro, Sterlington, disturbing the peace.

Frank C. Pipes, Oklahoma City, Okla. and Murry R. Jennings, 26, Jackson, Miss., both charged with driving without a chauffeur's license.

Foster Clint Dyer, 51, 617 St., pled innocent to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages, and will be tried December 22.

Missing Wallet Is Being Sought

A missing wallet containing $57 in cash is being sought by a West Monroe man who reported it lost to Monroe police yesterday.

J .F. Oglesbee of Cedar St., West Monroe, told officers he probably lost the black man's wallet somewhere in the vicinity of the Illinois Central railroad roundhouse Sept. 19.

Oglesbee said the wallet contained besides the $57 cash, three credit cards and other papers.

Cotton Work Picking Up

OAK GROVE (Special) — Receipts of cotton at the Union Compress and Warehouse to date totals 455 bales, as the cotton harvest tempo, three to four weeks behind the 1960 season, begins to quicken.

"The first of the week we received over 50 bales a day; Thursday and Friday's recepts were over 100 bales per day. It is obvious that the harvest has gotten underway in earnest throughtout the parish," J. P. McCabe, manager said.

H esaid the total is still far below the 2,600 bales that had been received by the compress by this daet in 1960.

According to the first monthly report of cotton ginning in the United States issued by the Burea uof Census, only 3,055 bales had been processed in Louisiana by Sept. 1 as compared with 8,2 67bales for the 1960 crop.

Goldwater-Type Conservative To Speak Tonight

JENA (Special) — Noted as Goldwater type conservative, Robert C. Snyder will be featured speaker 7:30 p.m. tonight at the annual Jena Chamber of Commerce banquet.

The banquet will be held in the Jena Junior High School cafeteria.

Snyder, associate professor of English at Louisiana Tech, has been associated with the college since 1947.

He has gained a reputation throughout the state for being a blunt, outspoken believer in Americanism and an opponent of the defeatism attitude popular in the western world today.

The banquet is a ladies' night event and in addition the general public has been invited to purchase tickets and attend by Chamber president Robert Wagner.

The program will also include presentation of the Chamber's annual Jena "Man of the Year" award. This recognition goes to a local citizen who has performed outstanding civic work during the past 12 months.

Four Draw Fines Yesterday In District Court

Four persons were fined in Fourth District Court Monday, and a Monroe man pled innocent to a driving charge.

Judge Jesse Heard levied fines of $25 plus court costs on:

Adrian Smith, 42, Clayton, charged with reckless driving.

Nina Mae Alexander, 49, Negro, Sterlington, disturbing the peace.

Frank C. Pipes, Oklahoma City, Okla. and Murry R. Jennings, 26, Jackson, Miss., both charged with driving without a chauffeur's license.

Foster Clint Dyer, 51, 617 St., pled innocent to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages, and will be tried December 22.

Missing Wallet Is Being Sought

A missing wallet containing $57 in cash is being sought by a West Monroe man who reported it lost to Monroe police yesterday.

J .F. Oglesbee of Cedar St., West Monroe, told officers he probably lost the black man's wallet somewhere in the vicinity of the Illinois Central railroad roundhouse Sept. 19.

Oglesbee said the wallet contained besides the $57 cash, three credit cards and other papers.

Cotton Work Picking Up

OAK GROVE (Special) — Receipts of cotton at the Union Compress and Warehouse to date totals 455 bales, as the cotton harvest tempo, three to four weeks behind the 1960 season, begins to quicken.

"The first of the week we received over 50 bales a day; Thursday and Friday's recepts were over 100 bales per day. It is obvious that the harvest has gotten underway in earnest throughtout the parish," J. P. McCabe, manager said.

H esaid the total is still far below the 2,600 bales that had been received by the compress by this daet in 1960.

According to the first monthly report of cotton ginning in the United States issued by the Burea uof Census, only 3,055 bales had been processed in Louisiana by Sept. 1 as compared with 8,2 67bales for the 1960 crop.

Goldwater-Type Conservative To Speak Tonight

JENA (Special) — Noted as Goldwater type conservative, Robert C. Snyder will be featured speaker 7:30 p.m. tonight at the annual Jena Chamber of Commerce banquet.

The banquet will be held in the Jena Junior High School cafeteria.

Snyder, associate professor of English at Louisiana Tech, has been associated with the college since 1947.

He has gained a reputation throughout the state for being a blunt, outspoken believer in Americanism and an opponent of the defeatism attitude popular in the western world today.

The banquet is a ladies' night event and in addition the general public has been invited to purchase tickets and attend by Chamber president Robert Wagner.

The program will also include presentation of the Chamber's annual Jena "Man of the Year" award. This recognition goes to a local citizen who has performed outstanding civic work during the past 12 months.

U.S. Constitution

The constitution of the United States, which just passed its 174th birthday, has been described even by non-Americans as the "greatest document ever set down at one time by the hand of man."

Contrary to later philosophies, the U.S. constitution did not outline a mere operating mechanism for government. The fact is, many of the operations as originally set down in the document — such as the popular election of members of the senate — have been changed without destroying the basic concept.

The constitution was and is a product of debate and controversy. Like today's two-party system and the lengthy speeches and debates in congress, it was conceived by men to whom representative government was necessary to the American way of life.

Several predictions made shortly after the document was signed show a remarkable sense of foresight on the part of public figures of those days.

Benjamin Franklin was pleasantly surprised that the constitution approached perfection "as nearly as it does," and predicted that it would be well administered for a number of years. He further predicted the form of government "can only end in despotism, as other forms have done before it, when the people shall become so corrupted as to need despotic government, being incapable of any other."

When would the people reach such a point? For one thing, a breakdown in law, order and morality would turn government at all levels into a vast police system. This could result in a despotic rule which would wreck any individual rights as guaranteed in the constitution.

But we are hardly faced with such a breakdown at this time. Now it is the power of federal aid and welfare programs which is the corrupting influence. But here again Mr. Franklin's prophecy was correct. The handing out of federal money calls for "fair distribution." And who besides a power-hungry leader is going to be in charge of such a mass distribution program?

There were other remarks made shortly after the Constitution was signed which are interesting but not as penetrating as Franklin's insight.

Governor Morris of Pennsylvania, for example, agreed with James Madison of Virginia —later to serve as fourth President of the nation—that if suffrage was to be open to all free men, a system of aristocracy would develop, which would put government in the "power of opulent men whose business created numerous dependents to rule at all elections."

This was a good look "down the line" at the possibility large estates, businesses and industries with many employes voting as blocs, thus making the owners into an aristocracy. The bloc voting has developed but not along the lines envisioned by Morris and Madison. This "aristocracy has appeared today in the form of minority group champions and leaders of large labor unions.

If this is the wisdom which was displayed in conversation by the framers of the U.S. Constitution, there is all the more reason to have a great degree of faith in what such men agreed to set into writing.

And there is no reason today for anyone to claim the principles as set down in the Constitution should give way to a highly centralized federal government.

Opposed To Huge Aid

High praise for Otto E. Passman, congressman from the fifth district of Louisiana, which includes 14 northeast Louisiana parishes, is given in an editorial in the Lorain, Ohio, Journal.

The Ohio newspaper has no reason for mentioning Passman, or any other congressman from Louisiana, except for the way his duties are performed. Louisiana politics do not concern Ohio except as they affect the nation. The editorial indicates the management of the Lorain Journal has been extremely well impressed with the firm stand taken by Congressman Passman against foreign aid. It also indicates that general sentiment in this country is strongly against foreign aid on such a vast scale and that the government is putting this huge program into effect largely against the will of the people.

In part, the Journal editorial noted:

"What makes intelligent men believe that the United States has any obligations, legal or moral, to give the money of our citizens to people of other nations?

"What makes men who are reasonable in most matters believe we can buy friendship of other nations, when history and present events prove conclusively that such a hope is a fallacy?

"Lastly, what makes high officials of our government so convinced of the importance of foreign aid that they consider lobbying, pressure, personal solicitation and all manner of strategems justified to obtain congressional approval of it?

"We are unable to answer these questions. But because the beliefs expressed in them are strong, the importance to the nation of a Democratic congressman from Louisiana is greatly increased. His name is Otto E. Passman. He is a member of the house, and heads the appropriations committee foreign affairs subcommittee.

"Passman is a firm and outspoken opponent of foreign aid programs. He claims that the Kennedy administration has launched an 'absolutely unprecedented' campaign of propaganda and lobbying to promote its foreign aid program in congress this year.

"In an interview with the Journal's Washington service, Passman provided a long list of pressure tactics used by the Kennedy administration which, he declared, "made the Eisenhower foreign aid propaganda campaigns look amateur.

"The aid programs of both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations grounded on the shoals of his committee, forcing both presidents to make appeals to congress to restore the heavy cuts in foreign aid. . . .

"These comments are presented for just one reason. A man who has done as much as Passman to resist wasteful foreign aid should be accorded the congratulations and encouragement of citizens from all parts of the country. Letters may be addressed to him at the House Office Building, Washington, D.C."

This is good advice for Louisiana citizens who are opposed to the exorbitant foreign aid giveaway program undertaken by President Kennedy.

One illustration of the political reward and pressure tactics employed by the administration is the reactivation of Fort Polk, near Leesville, La.

Congressman Passman recently issued a statement saying he would not yield to the pressure put on him for foreign aid support and would not give his support, no matter how many political plums might be offered.

Fort Polk was reactivated because of the urgent need for training more troops, in view of recent Russian belligerency, and because the fort was the logical place for such training, as determined when it was first established.

Nevertheless, the administration tried to make the reactivation look like a political plum for Louisiana congressmen and wanted concessions and votes from them in return. Passman was right in rejecting any such proposal.

What this country needs is more men who will stand firm and fewer men who will say yes because of pressure or favors.

Goodwin Negotiating Alone

White House 'Expert' On Latin America Still Acting Like One-Man State Department Despite Protests

Richard Goodwin, 29-year-old White House "expert" on Latin America, is still operating like a one-man State Department.

He is carrying on his own secret negotiations with Communist leaders in Cuba despite howls of protest from the State Department.

Goodwin, who held a "chance" meeting with Ernesto (Che) Guevara, Castro's Communist economic czar, in Argentina last month, had an unannounced rendezvous with Carlos Rafael Rodriguez, editor of the Communist newspaper Hoy.

Neither Goodwin nor Rodriguez is talking about their mysterious meeting although it has already produced some very explosive results.

For instance, Rodriguez, on returning to Havana, narrowly escaped assassination by a group of assistants that shot up his car while he was traveling along the Via Blanca.

The Castro government blames the Central Intelligence Agency for the attempt on Rodriguez's life. However, reliable U. S. intelligence sources claim that the assailants were anti-Castro underground fighters.

Word of the Goodwin - Rodriguez meeting has caused a group of responsible Senators to consider the recall of Goodwin for a second round of questioning on his "one-man" foreign policy operations.

A Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee headed by Senator Wayne Morse, D., Ore., already has questioned Goodwin about his meeting last month with Ernesto (Che) Guevara, Castro's Communist economic czar, at the recent Inter - American Economic Conference at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

"CHANCE" MEETING — During the private Morse inquiry, Goodwin passed off his conference with Guevara as a "chance" meeting when both men met at a diplomatic reception.

However, Goodwin's follow-up meeting with Rodriguez, along with new evidence that the conference with "Che" was anything but a chance get together is causing the senators to take another look at Goodwin's activities.

One senator's inquiry at the White House brought back word from President Kennedy that Assistant Secretary Robert Woodward is the "responsible officer" on Latin American Affairs.

Meanwhile, at the State Department an aide to Woodward reports that "the situation is intolerable. Something is going to have to give pretty soon." He reports that Goodwin continues to take on problems of Latins who bypass the State Department and come directly to him.

Note: Rodriguez, a Havana University professor, is the senior official of the Integrated Revolutionary Organization (the nucleus of Cuba's new, single party) in addition to being editor of Hoy.

DELANEY'S SURPRISE—Representative James Delaney, whose unyielding opposition in the Rules Committee blocked House consideration of the Administration's 2.5 billion education bill, is planning to introduce his own federal aid bill in January.

The Brooklyn Democrat is drafting a bill that provides $20-a-year in federal aid for every elementary and high school student in the country.

Under its provisions, the money will be paid by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare to the school or school district where the pupil attends. Both public and private schools will be eligible to receive the aid.

In discussing his bill with other members, Delaney is making it clear that he was never opposed to federal aid to education.

"My only concern was to see that every American, regardless of his religion or race, benefited from the program," says Delaney. "The Administration's bill was designed to help only one group of students. My bill will help all students."

Delaney plans to personally ask President Kenney to support his legislation.

BEHIND THE SCENES — Representative George Miller, D., Calif., new chairman of the House Space Committee, is urging President Kennedy to put the Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile into production immediately. He warns the President that if this isn't done the Russians will have an operational anti - missile missile years before the U.S. If that happens, Miller says, the Soviets will have a new weapon to blackmail the U.S. . . . Russia is conducting a gigantic gun-running traffic to Africa from Communist Baltic ports. U.S. Intelligence agencies have detailed information on 30 arms ship sailings in the past two months from the East German port of Rostock the Polish ports of Stettin and Gdynia, the Soviet port of Pillau, near Kaliningrad. This Communist gun-running has increased tremendously in recent weeks. The magnitude of the Baltic-based Communist gun-running is far greater than any requirements in the Congo. U.S. Intelligence officers evaluate the volume of arms traffic as meaning that Russia intends trying to sow rebellion and civil strife throughout Africa. The arms being sent are cast-off Communist weapons from Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Most of them date back to World War II.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Coronary Attack

No Short Answer Can Describe All Causes Of This Ailment

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: There have been so many theories advanced for the cause of a coronary attack. What's yours? Sincerely, Mr. T., Miami

Comment: I wish my reply might be just as short and to the point as your question. All I shall be doing is adding one more opinion to the many you say you have heard or read about. Here it is: I can't be more certain than anyone else, because medical science hasn't yet come up with the one and unquestionable cause.

However, there are certain things we do know. For example, that atherosclerosis is at the bottom of it. Coronary attacks don't (with very few exceptions) occur in healthy arteries. In atherosclerosis the normally elastic coronary arteries become thickened with lime salts and cholesterol.

We know that fat people are more susceptible. That in many cases the cause is a disturbed cholesterol metabolism; there's too much fat and cholesterol in the blood stream and in the artery walls. For some reason, many people can't handle the cholesterol in their diets or the cholesterol manufactured by the liver.

Yet, there are many people with atherosclerosis who live out a long life without getting a coronary attack, stroke or kidney complication. Why? That's what we really don't know. Heredity plays a part. So does lack of exercise or too much exercise. So does tension. So does obesity.

If you asked me which of these is most important I'd have to say they're all important. I tell the overweight patient to take off those excess pounds if he wants to forestall a coronary attack. I tell the man (or woman) with a family history studded with case histories of coronary trouble to take extra good care of himself and have frequent checkups. I tell the man under daily tensions (the medical term is "stress") that he'd better learn how to conduct his business and home affairs in peace; an emotionally charged atmosphere invites an attack. I tell the man who is wasting his energy in sudden spurts of overactivity (like shoveling snow or playing 36 holes of golf in one day) to learn moderation before it is too late. The same goes for overeating, and oversmoking.

Are you asking me to make a choice, Mr. T.? I'd put stress at the head of the list. I think that the man or woman who lives in tranquility has the best chance for survival. I admit that it's not easy to become a tranquil-minded person. However, where life itself is the prize, you'll admit that it's worth the try.

A MARRIED VIRGIN

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am married 10 years but feel I am still a virgin. I need an examination but fear going to the doctor. If I am a virgin, I feel he would laugh and think it very stupid of us. Especially so since my husband is a potent and virile man. What do you suggest? Sincerely, Mrs. X.

Comment: I am sure your doctor won't laugh. However, I can't guarantee that he won't wonder how you could have waited for 10 years before coming to him with this problem.

Yours is not the first case of an unyielding hymen. A simple operation will quickly solve the problem. See your doctor!

For Mrs. C., Arizona: You say you have arguments, arguments, arguments. It takes two to tango, you know. Is it worth winning a few battles at the risk of losing the war?

Soviets Charge NATO Exercise Is Provocation

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has charged that North Atlantic Treaty Organization maneuvers in Turkey are a provocation.

A statement to this effect was made to the Turkish ambassador by the deputy Soviet foreign minister, Nikolai Firyubin, last Saturday, it was announced Monday.

Moscow radio broadcast the report of the interview only a few minutes after announcing that troops of the Warsaw Pact powers will hold war exercises in October and November.

The Soviet news agency Tass said Firyubin protested that NATO maneuvers "embraced the entire territory of Turkey, including the area directly bordering on the frontiers of the U.S.S.R. and the Bulgarian People's Republic."

He further declared that the use of the Black Sea and the Black Sea Straits by NATO was not in accord with international agreements.

"The very fact that such maneuvers are being held by NATO states at the present moment points to their provocative nature," he said.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

None Is Neutral

Big Increase In U.N. Membership Is Favorable To Russia

In 1951, the United Nations had 60 members; in 1961, the United Nations had 99 members. This enormous increase in membership shifts the center of power in that body and imperils the United States. Vladimir Petrov, an accepted authority of current Russian and Chinese affairs, has written a book for the Shoe String Press, entitled "What China Policy?"

In this book, he, like the Belgrade conference, drops the term, "neutral nations," and uses "non-aligned nations." Petrov apparently believes that there are no longer any neutrals, which is sound doctrine. There are no nations which are really not aligned. I herewith give his list of how nations line up, and although this list was composed in the summer of 1961, there are already some changes, so swift are the shifts in current politics. Herewith Petrov's list:

"West: The NATO group.

"Pro-Western: Spain, Iran, Pakistan, Thailand, South Vietnam, the Philippines, Republic of China, South Korea, Japan, Australia, New Zealand, most of Latin America. (Here grave changes have taken place and are taking place.)

"Pro-Western 'neutrals': Sweden, Switzerland, Austria, most of the former French Africa, Israel, Jordan, Malaya.

"Anti-Communist 'neutrals': Tunisia, Libya, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Union of South Africa, the Congo (Leopoldville), Haiti, Dominican Republic, Cyprus, Vatican, Laos.

"Anti-Western 'neutrals': Ethiopia, most of the former British Africa, Iraq, India, Nepal, Cambodia.

"Communist - oriented 'neutrals': Finland, Morocco, Ghana, Somalia, Yemen, Afghanistan, Burma, Indonesia, Ceylon.

"Communist: The Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Roumania, Bulgaria, Albania, East Germany, Communist China, Outer Mongolia, North Vietnam, North Korea."

Petrov makes the point that since 1948, there has been no marked shift from favoring Russia to favoring the United States. Note must be taken of the attitudes of Nehru and Nasser at the Belgrade Conference which might indicate a weariness with Khrushchev. On the other hand many of the countries which we assumed were pro-West — which literally means pro-United States, actually lean toward Russia.

The admission of Red China into the United Nations might be regarded as a test of Communist strength in the United Nations. Petrov says of this:

". . . the elevation of Communist China to a role as one of the guardians of international peace and security in the Security Council would automatically increase the dangers to the independence of countries like South Korea, the Philippines, South Vietnam, Laos, Malaya, or Thailand. Their shaky regimes would feel abandoned and might well fall easy prey to pressures emanating from the most powerful nation of the region, even if the Chinese Communists did not resort to overt aggression. The pro-Western governments of these countries might, for a short time, give place to 'neutralist' ones as a stage before landing in the Communist camp. The United Nations, quite clearly, could do nothing to prevent this from happening. In other words, one more group of nations would lose their independence, and Communist China would acquire a belt of satellites in the Soviet fashion."

Obviously, Petrov is correct, for we are already witnessing this process in Laos and in addition we are witnessing the astonishing effort to turn the Congo into a Communist state. Is this effort associated with the death of Dag Hammarskjold? Was his a political murder or an accident?

There are some who believe that Soviet Russia would be weakened if steps were taken to please Red China. No Communist has quarrelled with the Kremlin more violently than Tito, but when it comes to voting in the United Nations, Jugoslavia generally goes along with Soviet Russia on basic questions. The reason is that for a Communist it is important that fundamental Marxism must not fail. Intramural quarrels must not be permitted to strengthen the anti-Communists. There are many economic, geographic and ideological reasons why Red China and Soviet Russia will not split when the issue is so basic as likely to bring on the defeat of Marxism throughout the world.

We generally think in terms of countries, of nations. It is difficult for us to conceive of the Soviet Universal State—a conglomeration of nearly a billion human beings of a variety of cultures and racial heritages. It is this mass that we are dealing with when we speak of the Marxist world.

SYLVIA PORTER

Boom In Bowling

Six Million Men, Women And Youngsters Will Roll This Fall

(1st in a Series of 3 Interviews with Leading Industrialists)

This fall about six million men, women and youngsters will bowl regularly as members of organized teams and leagues. Another 25 million Americans will go in for bowling independently. These 31 million bowlers—one of every six of us—represent a phenomenal upsurge from the only 12.5 million individual bowlers in 1946. Bowling is bigger than ever, its growth rate to record after record astounds even those who've been in the industry for decades. In this first of a series of three interviews with leading industrialists, Lloyd R. Ludwig, president of American International Bowling Corp., the world's largest operator of bowling centers, analyzes some of the fascinating angles of this recreation—a word the industry prefers to "sport" in describing itself.

Q. PORTER: Why the astounding growth in bowling?

A. LUDWIG: An angle that no one has emphasized but which I think is most significant is that this is an activity which reduces tensions in people. Psychologically, throwing a ball at something relieves worries about work loads, world crises. It is a psychological need for many people who envision each pin as someone they dislike and who get rid of their anger by knocking down the pins.

More fundamental reasons, of course, are the shorter working hours and higher pay of recent years—developments which also have sparked the growth of such leisure time activities as boating the soaring sales of hi-fi equipment, books, photographic equipment.

Also most important in the expansion of bowling is the development of the automatic pinspotter, which has spurred the establishment of bowling establishments in luxurious surroundings and which has given the bowling industry an aura of respectability it never had before.

Q. PORTER: What about the influence of women and schools?

A. LUDWIG: The steadily increasing interest of women in bowling has a crucial factor in the industry's growth. Bowling centers today often have a country club atmosphere, and for many women their bowling team has taken the place of the card club.

The fact that schools have accepted bowling has been a great plus. Some high schools and colleges have built bowling lanes into their plant; others have included bowling as an intramural activity. There are many championship tournaments.

Finally, you shouldn't underestimate the growing use of a bowling centers by senior citizens, both men and women.

Q. PORTER: How does this translate into dollars and cents?

A. LUDWIG: The bowling industry derives important revenue not only from actual bowling fees but also from sales at the snack bars and restaurants in the lanes, the sale and rental of bowling equipment such as shoes and balls. These items run into millions annually.

The individual bowler is likely to spend between $2 and $4 during an afternoon or evening of bowling. About $1.50 of this represents the bowling fee (which averages about 45 cents per line). The best estimate I can make on the gross of all the bowling establishments in this country — and there are about 10,000 of them—is that it will run close to $1.2 billion this year. There's no point in comparing this with the gross of 10 years ago. It dwarfs it.

Q. PORTER: How much does it cost to set up a bowling center?

A. LUDWIG: The investment can be tremendous. There are about 130,000 lanes in operation currently, an increase of 21 per cent just in the past year and about three times the number in 1946.

Each of the automatic pinspotters in a bowling center costs about $8,000. Additional equipment for each center averages around $7,000 per lane and the land and building cost of a typical new center will run about $10,000 per land. Thus before a single ball is rolled, a 24-lane center — a small one today — could cost $600,000.

Q. PORTER: Can you estimate the future growth of bowling?

A. LUDWIG: Only to the extent that I know it will be growth and be powerful and steady. Remember my first point about the physical and psychological benefits of throwing a ball at something!

Several predictions made shortly after the document was signed show a remarkable sense of foresight on the part of public figures of those days.

Benjamin Franklin was pleasantly surprised that the constitution approached perfection "as nearly as it does," and predicted that it would be well administered for a number of years. He further predicted the form of government "can only end in despotism, as other forms have done before it, when the people shall become so corrupted as to need despotic government, being incapable of any other."

When would the people reach such a point? For one thing, a breakdown in law, order and morality would turn government at all levels into a vast police system. This could result in a despotic rule which would wreck any individual rights as guaranteed in the constitution.

But we are hardly faced with such a breakdown at this time. Now it is the power of federal aid and welfare programs which is the corrupting influence. But here again Mr. Franklin's prophecy was correct. The handing out of federal money calls for "fair distribution." And who besides a power-hungry leader is going to be in charge of such a mass distribution program?

There were other remarks made shortly after the Constitution was signed which are interesting but not as penetrating as Franklin's insight.

Governor Morris of Pennsylvania, for example, agreed with James Madison of Virginia —later to serve as fourth President of the nation—that if suffrage was to be open to all free men, a system of aristocracy would develop, which would put government in the "power of opulent men whose business created numerous dependents to rule at all elections."

This was a good look "down the line" at the possibility large estates, businesses and industries with many employes voting as blocs, thus making the owners into an aristocracy. The bloc voting has developed but not along the lines envisioned by Morris and Madison. This "aristocracy has appeared today in the form of minority group champions and leaders of large labor unions.

If this is the wisdom which was displayed in conversation by the framers of the U.S. Constitution, there is all the more reason to have a great degree of faith in what such men agreed to set into writing.

And there is no reason today for anyone to claim the principles as set down in the Constitution should give way to a highly centralized federal government.

Opposed To Huge Aid

High praise for Otto E. Passman, congressman from the fifth district of Louisiana, which includes 14 northeast Louisiana parishes, is given in an editorial in the Lorain, Ohio, Journal.

The Ohio newspaper has no reason for mentioning Passman, or any other congressman from Louisiana, except for the way his duties are performed. Louisiana politics do not concern Ohio except as they affect the nation. The editorial indicates the management of the Lorain Journal has been extremely well impressed with the firm stand taken by Congressman Passman against foreign aid. It also indicates that general sentiment in this country is strongly against foreign aid on such a vast scale and that the government is putting this huge program into effect largely against the will of the people.

In part, the Journal editorial says:

"What makes intelligent men believe that the United States has any obligations, legal or moral, to give the money of our citizens to people of other nations?

"What makes men who are reasonable in most matters believe we can buy friendship of other nations, when history and present events prove conclusively that such a hope is a fallacy?

"Lastly, what makes high officials of our government so convinced of the importance of foreign aid that they consider lobbying, pressure, personal solicitation and all manner of strategems justified to obtain congressional approval of it?

"We are unable to answer these questions. But because the beliefs expressed in them are strong, the importance to the nation of a Democratic congressman from Louisiana is greatly increased. His name is Otto E. Passman. He is a member of the house, and heads the appropriations committee foreign affairs subcommittee.

"Passman is a firm and outspoken opponent of foreign aid programs. He claims that the Kennedy administration has launched an 'absolutely unprecedented' campaign of propaganda and lobbying to promote its foreign aid program in congress this year.

"In an interview with the Journal's Washington service, Passman provided a long list of pressure tactics used by the Kennedy administration which, he declared, "made the Eisenhower foreign aid propaganda campaigns look amateur.

"The aid programs of both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations grounded on the shoals of his committee, forcing both presidents to make appeals to congress to restore the heavy cuts in foreign aid. . . .

"These comments are presented for just one reason. A man who has done as much as Passman to resist wasteful foreign aid should be accorded the congratulations and encouragement of citizens from all parts of the country. Letters may be addressed to him at the House Office Building, Washington, D.C."

This is good advice for Louisiana citizens who are opposed to the exorbitant foreign aid giveaway program undertaken by President Kennedy.

One illustration of the political reward and pressure tactics employed by the administration is the reactivation of Fort Polk, near Leeville, La.

Congressman Passman recently issued a statement saying he would not yield to the pressure put on him for foreign aid support and would not give his support, no matter how many political plums might be offered.

Fort Polk was reactivated because of the urgent need for training more troops, in view of recent Russian belligerency, and because the fort was the logical place for such training, as determined when it was first established.

Nevertheless, the administration tried to make the reactivation look like a political plum for Louisiana congressmen and wanted concessions and votes from them in return. Passman was right in rejecting any such proposal.

What this country needs is more men who will stand firm and fewer men who will say yes because of pressure or favors.

Goodwin Negotiating Alone

White House 'Expert' On Latin America Still Acting Like One-Man State Department Despite Protests

Richard Goodwin, 29 - year - old White House "expert" on Latin America, is still operating like a one-man State Department.

He is carrying on his own secret negotiations with Communist leaders in Cuba despite howls of protest from the State Department.

Goodwin, who held a "chance" meeting with Ernesto (Che) Guevara, Castro's Communist economic czar, in Argentina last month, had an unannounced rendezvous with Carlos Rafael Rodriguez, editor of the Communist newspaper Hoy.

Neither Goodwin nor Rodriguez is talking about their mysterious meeting although it has already produced some very explosive results.

For instance, Rodriguez, on returning to Havana, narrowly escaped assassination by a group of assistants that shot up his car while he was traveling along the Via Blanca.

The Castro government blames the Central Intelligence Agency for the attempt on Rodriguez's life. However, reliable U. S. intelligence sources claim that the assailants were anti - Castro underground fighters.

Word of the Goodwin - Rodriguez meeting has caused a group of responsible Senators to consider the recall of Goodwin for a second round of questioning on his "one-man" foreign policy operations.

A Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee headed by Senator Wayne Morse, D., Ore., already has questioned Goodwin about his meeting last month with Ernesto (Che) Guevara, Castro's Communist economic czar, at the recent Inter - American Economic Conference at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

"CHANCE" MEETING — During the private Morse inquiry, Goodwin passed off his conference with Guevara as a "chance" meeting when both men met at a diplomatic reception.

However, Goodwin's follow-up meeting with Rodriguez, along with new evidence that the conference with "Che" was anything but a chance get - together is causing the senators to take another look at Goodwin's activities.

One senator's inquiry at the White House brought back word from President Kennedy that Assistant Secretary Robert Woodward is the "responsible officer" on Latin American Affairs.

Meanwhile, at the State Department an aide to Woodward reports that "the situation is intolerable. Something is going to have to give pretty soon." He reports that Goodwin continues to take on problems of Latins who bypass the State Department and come directly to him.

Note: Rodriguez, a Havana University professor, is the senior official of the Integrated Revolutionary Organization (the nucleus of Cuba's new, single party) in addition to being editor of Hoy.

DELANEY'S SURPRISE—Representative James Delaney, whose unyielding opposition in the Rules Committee blocked House consideration of the Administration's 2.5 billion education bill, is planning to introduce his own federal aid bill in January.

The Brooklyn Democrat is drafting a bill that provides $20-a-year in federal aid for every elementary and high school student in the country.

Under its provisions, the money will be paid by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare to the school or school district where the pupil attends. Both public and private schools will be eligible to receive the aid.

In discussing his bill with other members, Delaney is making it clear that he was never opposed to federal aid to education.

"My only concern was to see that every American, regardless of his religion or race, benefited from the program," says Delaney. "The Administration's bill was designed to help only one group of students. My bill will help all students."

Delaney plans to personally ask President Kenney to support his legislation.

BEHIND THE SCENES — Representative George Miller, D. Calif., new chairman of the House Space Committee, is urging President Kennedy to put the Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile into production immediately. He warns the President that if this isn't done the Russians will have an operational anti - missile missile years before the U.S. If that happens, Miller says, the Soviets will have a new weapon to blackmail the U.S. ...... Russia is conducting a gigantic gun-running traffic to Africa from Communist Baltic ports. U.S. Intelligence agencies have detailed information on 30 arms ship sailings in the past two months from the East German port of Rostock, the Polish ports of Stettin and Gdynia, the Soviet port of Pillau, near Kaliningrad. This Communist gun-running has increased tremendously in recent weeks. The magnitude of the Baltic-based Communist gun-running is far greater than any requirements in the Congo. U.S. Intelligence officers evaluate the volume of arms traffic as meaning that Russia intends trying to sow rebellion and civil strife throughout Africa. The arms being sent are cast-off Communist weapons from Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Most of them date back to World War II.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Coronary Attack

No Short Answer Can Describe All Causes Of This Ailment

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: There have been so many theories advanced for the cause of a coronary attack. What's yours? Sincerely, Mr. T., Miami.

Comment: I wish my reply might be just as short and to the point as your question. All I shall be doing is adding one more opinion to the many you say you have heard or read about. Here it is: I can't be more certain than anyone else, because medical science hasn't yet come up with the one and unquestionable cause.

However, there are certain things we do know. For example, that atherosclerosis is at the bottom of it. Coronary attacks don't (with very few exceptions) occur in healthy arteries. In atherosclerosis the normally elastic coronary arteries become thickened with lime salts and cholesterol.

We know that fat people are more susceptible. That in many cases the cause is a disturbed cholesterol metabolism: there's too much fat and cholesterol in the blood stream and in the artery walls. For some reason, many people can't handle the cholesterol in their diets or the cholesterol manufactured by the liver.

Yet, there are many people with atherosclerosis who live out a long life without getting a coronary attack, stroke or kidney complication. Why? That's what we really don't know. Heredity plays a part. So does lack of exercise or too much exercise. So does tension. So does obesity.

If you asked me which of these is most important I'd have to say they're all important. I tell the overweight patient to take off those excess pounds if he wants to forestall a coronary attack. I tell the man (or woman) with a family history studded with case histories of coronary trouble to take extra good care of himself and have frequent checkups. I tell the man under daily tensions (the medical term is "stress") that he'd better learn how to conduct his business and home affairs in peace: an emotionally charged atmosphere invites an attack. I tell the man who is wasting his energy in sudden spurts of overactivity (like shoveling snow or playing 36 holes of golf in one day) to learn moderation before it is too late. The same goes for overeating, and oversmoking.

Are you asking me to make a choice, Mr. T.? I'd put stress at the head of the list. I think that the man or woman who lives in tranquility has the best chance for survival. I admit that it's not easy to become a tranquil-minded person. However, where life itself is the prize, you'll admit that it's worth the try.

A MARRIED VIRGIN

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am married 10 years but feel I am still a virgin. I need an examination but fear going to the doctor. If I am a virgin, I feel he would laugh and think it very stupid of us. Especially so since my husband is a potent and virile man. What do you suggest? Sincerely, Mrs. X.

Comment: I am sure your doctor won't laugh. However, I can't guarantee that he won't wonder how you could have waited for 10 years before coming to him with this problem.

Yours is not the first case of an unyielding hymen. A simple operation will quickly solve the problem. See your doctor!

For Mrs. C., Arizona: You say you have arguments, arguments, arguments. It takes two to tango, you know. Is it worth winning a few battles at the risk of losing the war?

Soviets Charge NATO Exercise Is Provocation

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has charged that North Atlantic Treaty Organization maneuvers in Turkey are a provocation.

A statement to this effect was made to the Turkish ambassador by the deputy Soviet foreign minister, Nikolai Firyubin, last Saturday, it was announced Monday.

Moscow radio broadcast the report of the interview only a few minutes after announcing that troops of the Warsaw Pact powers will hold war exercises in October and November.

The Soviet news agency Tass said Firyubin protested that NATO maneuvers "embraced the entire territory of Turkey, including the area directly bordering on the frontiers of the U.S.S.R. and the Bulgarian People's Republic."

He further declared that the use of the Black Sea and the Black Sea Straits by NATO was not in accord with international agreements.

"The very fact that such maneuvers are being held by NATO states at the present moment points to their provocative nature," he said.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

None Is Neutral

Big Increase In U.N. Membership Is Favorable To Russia

In 1951, the United Nations had 60 members; in 1961, the United Nations had 99 members. This enormous increase in membership shifts the center of power in that body and imperils the United States. Vladimir Petrov, an accepted authority of current Russian and Chinese affairs, has written a book for the Shoe String Press, entitled "What China Policy?"

In this book, he, like the Belgrade conference, drops the term, "neutral nations," and uses "non-aligned nations." Petrov apparently believes that there are no longer any neutrals, which is sound doctrine. There are no nations which are really not aligned. I herewith give his list of how nations line up, and although this list was composed in the summer of 1961, there are already some changes, so swift are the shifts in current politics. Herewith Petrov's list:

"West: The NATO group.

"Pro-Western: Spain, Iran, Pakistan, Thailand, South Vietnam, the Philippines, Republic of China, South Korea, Japan, Australia, New Zealand, most of Latin America. (Here grave changes have taken place and are taking place.)

"Pro-Western 'neutrals': Sweden, Switzerland, Austria, most of the former French Africa, Israel, Jordan, Malaya.

"Anti-Communist 'neutrals': Tunisia, Libya, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Union of South Africa, the Congo (Leopoldville), Haiti, Dominican Republic, Cyprus, Vatican, Laos.

"Anti-Western 'neutrals': Ethiopia, most of the former British Africa, Iraq, India, Nepal, Cambodia.

"Communist - oriented 'neutrals': Finland, Morocco, Ghana, Somalia, Yemen, Afghanistan, Burma, Indonesia, Ceylon.

"Communist: The Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Roumania, Bulgaria, Albania, East Germany, Communist China, Outer Mongolia, North Vietnam, North Korea."

Petrov makes the point that since 1948, there has been no marked shift from favoring Russia to favoring the United States. Note must be taken of the attitudes of Nehru and Nasser at the Belgrade Conference which might indicate a weariness with Khrushchev. On the other hand many of the countries which we assumed were pro-West — which literally means pro-United States, actually lean toward Russia.

The admission of Red China into the United Nations might be regarded as a test of Communist strength in the United Nations. Petrov says of this:

". . . the elevation of Communist China to a role as one of the guardians of international peace and security in the Security Council would automatically increase the dangers to the independence of countries like South Korea, the Philippines, South Vietnam, Laos, Malaya, or Thailand. Their shaky regimes would feel abandoned and might well fall easy prey to pressures emanating from the most powerful nation of the region, even if the Chinese Communists did not resort to overt aggression. The pro-Western governments of these countries might, for a short time, give place to 'neutralist' ones as a stage before landing in the Communist camp. The United Nations, quite clearly, could do nothing to prevent this from happening. In other words, one more group of nations would lose their independence, and Communist China would acquire a belt of satellites in the Soviet fashion."

Obviously, Petrov is correct, for we are already witnessing this process in Laos and in addition we are witnessing the astonishing effort to turn the Congo into a Communist state. Is this effort associated with the death of Dag Hammarskjold? Was his a political murder or an accident?

There are some who believe that Soviet Russia would be weakened if steps were taken to please Red China. No Communist has quarrelled with the Kremlin more violently than Tito, but when it comes to voting in the United Nations, Jugoslavia generally goes along with Soviet Russia on basic questions. The reason is that for a Communist it is important that fundamental Marxism must not fail. Intramural quarrels must not be permitted to strengthen the anti-Communists. There are many economic, geographic and ideological reasons why Red China and Soviet Russia will not split when the issue is so basic as likely to bring on the defeat of Marxism throughout the world.

We generally think in terms of countries, of nations. It is difficult for us to conceive of the Soviet Universal State—a conglomeration of nearly a billion human beings of a variety of cultures and racial heritages. It is this mass that we are dealing with when we speak of the Marxist world.

Boom In Bowling

Six Million Men, Women And Youngsters Will Roll This Fall

(1st in a Series of 3 Interviews with Leading Industrialists)

This fall about six million men, women and youngsters will bowl regularly as members of organized teams and leagues. Another 25 million Americans will go in for bowling independently. These 31 million bowlers—one of every six of us—represent a phenomenal upsurge from the only 12.5 million individual bowlers in 1946. Bowling is bigger than ever, its growth rate to record after record astounds even those who've been in the industry for decades. In this first of a series of three interviews with leading industrialists, Lloyd R. Ludwig, president of American International Bowling Corp., the world's largest operator of bowling centers, analyzes some of the fascinating angles of this recreation—a word the industry prefers to "sport" in describing itself.

Q. PORTER: Why the astounding growth in bowling?

A. LUDWIG: An angle that no one has emphasized but which I think is most significant is that this is an activity which reduces tensions in people. Psychologically, throwing a ball at something relieves worries about work loads, world crises. It is a psychological need for many people who envision each pin as someone they dislike and who get rid of their anger by knocking down the pins.

More fundamental reasons, of course, are the shorter working hours and higher pay of recent years—developments which also have sparked the growth of such leisure time activities as boating the soaring sales of hi-fi equipment, books, photographic equipment.

Also most important in the expansion of bowling is the development of the automatic pinspotter, which has spurred the establishment of bowling establishments in luxurious surroundings and which has given the bowling industry an aura of respectability it never had before.

Q. PORTER: What about the influence of women and schools?

A. LUDWIG: The steadily increasing interest of women in bowling has a crucial factor in the industry's growth. Bowling centers today often have a country club atmosphere, and for many women their bowling team has taken the place of the card club.

The fact that schools have accepted bowling has been a great plus. Some high schools and colleges have built bowling lanes into their plant; others have included bowling as an intramural activity. There are many championship tournaments.

Finally, you shouldn't underestimate the growing use of a bowling centers by senior citizens, both men and women.

Q. PORTER: How does this translate into dollars and cents?

A. LUDWIG: The bowling industry derives important revenue not only from actual bowling fees but also from sales at the snack bars and restaurants in the lanes, the sale and rental of bowling equipment such as shoes and balls. These items run into millions annually.

The individual bowler is likely to spend between $2 and $4 during an afternoon or evening of bowling. About $1.50 of this represents the bowling fee (which averages about 45 cents per line). The best estimate I can make on the gross of all the bowling establishments in this country — and there are about 10,000 of them—is that it will run close to $1.2 billion this year. There's no point in comparing this with the gross of 10 years ago. It dwarfs it.

Q. PORTER: How much does it cost to set up a bowling center?

A. LUDWIG: The investment can be tremendous. There are about 130,000 lanes in operation currently, an increase of 21 per cent just in the past year and about three times the number in 1946.

Each of the automatic pinspotters in a bowling center costs about $8,000. Additional equipment for each center averages around $7,000 per lane and the land and building cost of a typical new center will run about $10,000 per land. Thus before a single ball is rolled, a 24-lane center — a small one today — could cost $600,000.

Q. PORTER: Can you estimate the future growth of bowling?

A. LUDWIG: Only to the extent that I know it will be growth and be powerful and steady. Remember my first point about the physical and psychological benefits of throwing a ball at something!

Opportunity To Attract Tourists Seen

Sen. J. C. Gilbert of Sicily Island said here yesterday Louisiana has a "wonderful opportunity" to promote tourism through the newly-formed Lovely Louisiana Tourist Association.

Speaking to the Louisiana Savings and Loan Association, Gilbert said, "We feel that we have a wonderful possibility in promoting tourism."

But he added, "It's going to take some cooperation from practically every individual in the state to put this program over."

Gilbert, a member of the legislative tourism committee explained that the Lovely Louisiana Tourist Association was organized about three years ago.

"We are trying to get started after organizing three months ago," he said.

Sen. Sylvan Friedman of Natchez is president. Gilbert, Bobby Pappas of Monroe and Frank Voelker Jr. of Lake Providence are board members from this area.

Gilbert said the purpose of his appearance before the Louisiana Savings and Loan Association was to solicit support, explaining that the tourist association was seeking help from several associations.

He said the tourism committee was going to meet Thursday in Shreveport.

Cotton Queen Back In Class At Northeast

Diana Jane Smith, Miss North Louisiana Cotton Festival Queen crowned last Saturday night, returned to classes Monday at Northeast Louisiana State College thrilled and thankful for the honor accorded her in Bastrop.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Smith of Oak Ridge, Miss Smith also now reigns as Miss Northeast, the top beauty and talent honor at Northeast State.

A runner-up in the Miss Louisiana pageant held earlier this year in Lake Providence, Miss Smith has earned the right to enter the state's foremost beauty pageant again next year.

Sponsored by the Northeast State student council, she was receiving congratulations today by classmates and friends with the reply: "About all I can say is that I am thankful from the bottom of my heart."

A shy, vivacious brunette, she is an excellent student. A junior at Northeast, she is majoring in instrumental piano.

Miss Smith, and the first runner-up, Betty Gibbs, 19, of Monroe, succeed Miss Louisiana Lyndra Pate, of Shreveport and Miss U. S. A. Sharon Rene Brown, of Minden, in the first and second spots respectively.

Miss Gibbs, blonde, green eyes, did a dramatic reading for her talent. She is a Northeast sophomore.

Five other Northeast State coeds were among the 18 contestants in Bastrop. They are Bennie Kay Barnette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Barnette of Bastrop; Shirley Braddock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Braddock of [illegible] Rouge; Barbara Jean McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Opportunity To Attract Tourists Seen

Sen. J. C. Gilbert of Sicily Island said here yesterday Louisiana has a "wonderful opportunity" to promote tourism through the newly-formed Lovely Louisiana Tourist Association.

Speaking to the Louisiana Savings and Loan Association, Gilbert said, "We feel that we have a wonderful possibility in promoting tourism."

But he added, "It's going to take some cooperation from practically every individual in the state to put this program over."

Gilbert, a member of the legislative tourism committee explained that the Lovely Louisana Tourist Association was organized about three years ago.

We are trying to get started after organizing three months ago." he said.

Sen. Sylvan Friedman of Natchez is president. Gilbert, Bobby Pappas of Monroe and Frank Voelker Jr. of Lake Providence are board members from this area.

Gilbert said the purpose of his appearance before the Louisiana Savings and Loan Association was to solicit support, explaining that the tourist association was seeking help from several associations.

He said the tourism committee was going to meet Thursday in Shreveport.

Cotton Queen Back In Class At Northeast

Diana Jane Smith, Miss North Louisiana Cotton Festival Queen crowned last Saturday night, returned to classes Monday at Northeast Louisiana State College thrilled and thankful for the honor accorded her in Bastrop.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Smith of Oak Ridge, Miss Smith also now reigns as Miss Northeast, the top beauty and talent honor at Northeast State.

A runner-up in the Miss Louisiana pageant held earlier this year in Lake Providence, Miss Smith has earned the right to enter the state's foremost beauty pageant again next year.

Sponsored by the Northeast State student council, she was receiving congratulations today by classmates and friends with the reply: "About all I Can say is that I am thankful from the bottom of my heart."

A shy, vivacious brunette, she is an excellent student. A junior at Northeast, she is majoring in instrumental piano.

Miss Smith, and the first runner-up, Betty Gibbs, 19, of Monroe, succeed Miss Louisiana Lyndra Pate, of Shreveport and Miss U. S. A. Sharon Rene Brown, of Minden, in the first and second spots respectively.

Miss Gibbs, blonde, green eyes, did a dramatic reading for her talent. She is a Northeast sophomore.

Five other Northeast State coeds were among the 18 contestants in Bastrop. They are Bennie Kay Barnette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Barnette of Bastrop; Shirley Braddock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Braddock of Mer Rouge; Barbara Jean McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. McCoy of Monroe; Sherry Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wells of Bastrop; and Patsy Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Collins of Pioneer.

J. L. Bryant Sr. Succumbs; Rites Remain Pending

Enthusiasm, Thinking Urged In Talk

"Nothing is so contagious as enthusiasm," Elmo S. Koschel, general sales manager for Southern Bell in Louisiana, said Monday night. He was outlining for members of the Monroe-West Monroe Sales Executive Club, in session at the Paragon Club, the building of a successful sales organization and the make-up of its sales manager.

He called the capacity for careful thought and well-advised action the most important ingredents in the skilled manager.

"The only reason you're not a dog, ready to obey the moon is because you're capable of thinking," said Koschel. "But unfortunately," he added, "only two per cent of the people think, eight per cent think they think and 90 per cent think what they're told to think about."

He listed seven other necessary characteristics "if you want your organization to get on its mark." They were: To get things done through people in a positive but not overbearing manner, getting them done in harmony, proper delegation of authority and responsibility, proper allocation of time, skillful evaluation of people, methods and ideas, good planning, and thorough communication of information within the orgranization.

"What is expected of you today," Koschel told the sales executives, "and what is expected of you tomorrow will be strikingly different."

The personality kid, the slap on the back and the big cigar, he said, is on the way out. Pointing to the rise of the "marketing man," Koschel urged preparedness for the future and opportunity.

The sales manager, he indicated, will be more the dynamic force in the business world in days to come than ever before.

Mrs. Wicker Honored At Gala Morning Party

Arrangements of fall flowers and foliage were used throughout the home of Mrs. Sanford Stephens on Thursday morning, September 21, when Mrs. Stephens, Mrs. Robert L. Curry, Mrs. Charles Fasterling, Mrs. Wesley Shafto and Mrs. Thomas W. Madison, Jr. complimented Mrs. Ralph Wicker, newcomer to Monroe. Mrs. Wicker, along with Mr. Wicker and sons, Ralph Jr. and Stephen, formerly lived in New Orleans.

Guests were greeted at the door by the hostesses and Mrs. Wicker, who received before an antique chest, the focal point of which was a dried arrangement depicting the fall season in tones of brown, green and gold.

In the dining room a silver basket on the buffet held floating camellias flanked by silver candelabra holding white tapers. The serving table was overlaid with a cutwork cloth and centered with a traditional arrangement of white mums, stock, and foliage. At one end of the table was an antique silver coffee urn, and at the other a silver service.

Mrs. Kent Anderson, Mrs. Jack Davis, Mrs. Edell Blanks and Mrs. Ed Seymour, Jr. alternated in pouring, and Mrs. Lamar Buf[illegible] [illegible] Jack Bunn, and Mrs. [illegible] assisted in serving.

Your Woman's World

GATHERED AROUND the tea table at the gala afternoon party on Wednesday are Mrs. Imogene Brooks of Somerville, Tennessee, mother of the honoree, Mrs. Raymond Lewis McFadden, in whose honor the party was given, Mrs. M. H. Collet, serving punch, and Mrs. W. H. McFadden, mother of the groom.

Introductory Tea Honors Recent Bride, Mrs. McFadden On Wednesday

Arrangements of fall flowers were usthroughout the home of Mrs. Harold Woods, Sr., on Pargoud Boulevard Wednesday at the introductory tea honoring a recent bride, Mrs. Raymond Lewis McFadden. Parents of the couple are Mrs. Imogene Brooks of Somerville, Tennessee, and Dr. and Mrs. W. H. McFadden of Monroe.

Hostesses for the gala event were Mrs. Marcus Mapp, Mrs. Otho Roddey, Mrs. Carey Crandall, Mrs. Lee Hodges, Mrs. Charles Foster and Mrs. Harold Woods.

Alternating at the door greeting guests were Mrs. Larry Fox, Mrs. Howard Rivers and Mrs. Frank Stuckey. Guests were then received by Mrs. Raymond McFadden, the honoree, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. W. H. McFadden and Mrs. Woods.

A striking Pagoda arrangement of pyracantha berries in a glazed white temple vase in foyer was reflected in mirror with decor of matching burnt orange hue. Fluer de mour and gardenia arrangements were placed at vantage points in the living room. The tea table was centered with a pyramid of white gladioli and gardenia enhanced with love birds and cascading white grapes. The pyramid was in a footed silver and crystal compote with complementary compotes on the buffet containing miniatures of the tea table centerpiece. Peach celosia and grapes made up a tiered composition placed on a brass table in the den of the home.

Alternating at the coffee service were Mrs. Alden T. Shotwell, Mrs. Bridger Thornhill, and Mrs. Clark Boardman. Assisting the hostesses at the silver punch bowl were Mrs. D. W. Griffith, Mrs. John Theus and Mrs. M. H. Collet.

Serving as hostesses in different areas and rooms of the house were Mrs. Lon Heuer, Mrs. Garland Shell, Mrs. M. L. Snapp, Mrs. Sidney Gill, Mrs. Charles Hargon, Mrs. Fred Meyer, Mrs. R. C. McDowell, Mrs. Harold Webster, Mrs. George Walker, Mrs. Sam Wilder, Mrs. Tom Davenport, Mrs. Richard Bailey, Mrs. D. Curtis Smith, Mrs. Roy Ledbetter, Mrs. George Hempbill, Mrs. Bert Root, Mrs. Chester Nenney, Mrs. I. T. Landhy, Mrs. Charles Regan, Mrs. W. A. Hickley, Mrs. O. K. Davis and Mrs. R. L. Prophit.

Those serving as tea girls at various hours were Misses Mary Jo Davenport, Caroline Cordell, Ann Andrews, Melanie Wood, Diane Garret, Georgia Burkett, Ellen Walker, Barbara Borgquest, Beverly Bartlett, Alice Goorley, Linda Collet, Kay Jones, Sharon Monroe, Judy Gill, Linda Carlson, Gretchen Masur, Jan Hallmark, Ginger Dean and Lorance Bushnell.

For her party the honoree chose a trousseau model of white self-embroidered brocade with gold tapestry shoes. She received a peach hibiscus corsage from her hostesses.

Approximately 400 guests called between the hours of three and six p.m.

Shower Fetes Recent Bride, Mrs. Swayze

Mrs. Roy Ussery Swayze, the former Miss Joyce Straham, was honored with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Lee Foster of Jonesville. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Dayton Young, Mrs. V. R. Purvis, Mrs. Ed Fairbanks, and Mrs. C. L. Wurster Jr.

Fall flower arrangements were used at vantage points throughout the house.

Guests were received by the honoree, Mrs. Swayze, Mrs. B. H. Straham, mother of the bride, Mrs. A. D. Swayze, mother of the groom, and Mrs. Lee Foster.

The bride's table was laid with a antique lace cloth underlined with gold satin, and centered with an arrangement of gold flowers. Mrs. V. R. Purvis and Mrs. Ed Fairbanks alternated at the silver punch service. Silver candelabra with gold tapers further enhanced the dining area.

The guest book was placed on an oval table centered with a white anniversary candle entwined with greenery and white carnations in the room where guests viewed the many beautiful and useful gifts.

Approximately 60 guests were in attendance for the event.

Mrs. Wicker Honored At Gala Morning Party

Arrangements of fall flowers and foliage were used throughout the home of Mrs. Sanford Stephens on Thursday morning, September 21, when Mrs. Stephens, Mrs. Robert L. Curry, Mrs. Charles Fasterling, Mrs. Wesley Shafto and Mrs. Hillman W. Madison, Jr., complimented Mrs. Ralph Wicker, newcomer to Monroe. Mrs. Wicker, along with Mr. Wicker and sons, Ralph Jr. and Stephen, formerly lived in New Orleans.

Guests were greeted at the door by the hostesses and Mrs. Wicker, who received before an antique chest, the focal point of which was a dried arrangement depicting the fall season in tones of brown, green and gold.

In the dinig room a silver basket on the buffet held floating camellias, flanked by silver candleholders holding white tapers. The serving table was overlaid with a cutwork cloth, and centered with a traditional arrangement of white mums, stock, and foliage. At one end of the table was an antique silver coffee urn, and at the other a silver service.

Mrs. Kent Anderson, Mrs. Jack Davis, Mrs. Edell Blanks and Mrs. Ed Seymour, Jr., alternated in pouring, and Mrs. Lamar Buffington, Mrs. Joe LeDoux, Mrs. Jack Bunn, and Mrs. Jim Padgett assisted in serving.

In the den a massive arrangement of magnolia leaves and pyracantha berries, in a brass and copper bucket, reposed on the hearth.

Guests called between the hours of 10:00 and 12:00 a.m.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Last Thursday was one of the hottest days in our city's history. Our wonderful 14-year-old collie was in the yard as usual. I had to fill his water pan three times.

About mid-afternoon he began to whine so I let him in the house. He looked at me pleadingly, panted a few times and then rolled over and died. Blaze was like a member of the family. It took all my strength to call my neighbor and ask her to bury him—which she did.

When my husband came home I told him about Blaze. He turned on me like a maniac. He said I was stupid not to call a vet. He claims the vet might have saved him. I tried to explain Blaze dropped dead before I knew anything was wrong but he refused to listen.

My husband then went to the phone and called his mother and sisters and told them that my stupidity had killed the dog. Nothing I said seemed to get through. I'm really annoyed at him for making me out to be a nut. Any advice? —WILMA

Dear Wilma: Your husband is distraught over the death of the dog and he is reacting in a childlike manner—placing the blame on the handiest party. A dog 14 years old is equivalent to a human being of 98. I'd say Blaze lived a good, full life.

Go out and buy another collie as soon as possible. Name him Blaze, Jr. and tell your husband to button his lip already.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm getting pretty fed up on the actions of a certain man who has been coming over to play cards with my father for as long as I can remember. He always brings me a sack of candy as if I were two years old.

I'm 15 now and I think it's time he stopped trying to kiss me on the lips and pull me onto his lap. I told my mother that maybe this was all right when I was a baby but I'm a young lady now and I hate it. I also told her that if he doesn't stop pawing me I am going to sock him right in the chops. ay I have your O. K.? —NO INFANT

Dear No Infant: Sorry, but a young lady doesn't go around socking her father's friends — or anyone else—in the chops.

You are perfectly right to resent his behavior but there's a better way to handle the old coot.

Tell him you've outgrown the baby stuff and from now on his greeting is a handshake. If he doesn't get in line tell your father to give him the message—man to man.

Dear Ann: I'm a bride of two months who needs your opinion. I attended college in the southeast and graduated three years ago. Since then I have carried on a rather extensive correspondence with college friends—both male and female.

It is my turn to answer several of these letters but my husband says a married woman should not correspond with males, even if it is platonic. I'd hate to lose track of these people because they are good friends. Our letters have always been strictly informational and I was never romantically involved with any of these fellows.

Do you feel that my husband is right? He calls it "preventive surgery." —MRS. A. W. K.

Dear Mrs. A. W. K.: I hope he's not a surgeon. Too much hacking away of healthy tissue can be dangerous.

A mature man should be able to tolerate his wife's correspondence with old college friends.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teenagers if you read "Ann Landers' " booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Dear Mrs. Eldred:

"I have had a comparatively easy time with my boy, who is now 5 years old. He used to have temper tantrums when he was about two, but he outgrew these and was a pretty nice little guy.

"But 'now' If I ask him to pick up his toys, or bring his tricycle into the garage, or put his clothes on their hooks, he throws himself on the floor and kicks and screams. I think the neighbors believe I am killing him. Even the littlest thing I ask him is too much for him to do. He now has the habit of calling me an "old meany" and saying, I hate you

"This absolutely throws me I try to be nice and understanding, but at times I actually admit that I dislike him. Why is he so antagonistic?"

ANSWER

Because he is going through a period that is quite similar to the one at two years. A child of five is aggressive, but disdains cooperation. He wants to act just as independent as he thinks he is.

At some time or another every parent has had the word hate thrown at her like a stone. The word is much more drastic than the emotion the child feels. If he had a bigger vocabulary, he would be able to say that he is frustrated when held down to household duties. Instead, he says he hates you.

When he is calm, you can talk to him about his feelings. Admit that, at times, he probably dislikes you because you are making him do what he doesn't want to do. Admit that at times you feel somewhat the same: not hate—but certainly deep irritation at his behavior. When he is calm, you can make it more understandable.

A FEW TASKS

At this age he is able to help, but don't expect too much of him. Make out a short list of tasks you expect him to fulfill during the day, and suggest he mark them off when he has finished. Don't pay him for his work, but offer him some treat at the end of a week when all his tasks have been done. And when he does say, "I hate you," retaliate with, "But I love you." That will work better than anger against anger.

If you would like our free leaflet, "Home Tasks," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your requests for leaflet No. 40 to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

THE CLEAN, uncluttered styling of Buick for 1962 is exemplified in the Electra 225 series with its sporty new roofline and its tailored rear deckline with the wind-split down the center. The long, sweeping lines of the front and rear decklid with fenders make the car look bigger without increasing its size. The new roofline wih its wide, sloping rear pillars identify the Electra 225 series, one of the most luxurious cars in the fine car field. Passenger comfort has been improved for 1962 by the almost complete elimination of the transmission hump in the floor of the front passenger compartment. The Electra 225 is powered by a 401 cubic inch V-8 engine with four-barrel carburetor, coupled with Buick's smooth Turbine Drive transmission.

Miss Theus, Mr. McDonald Honored With Parties Prior To Wedding Vows

A gala round of parties this past week have been given in honor of the approaching wedding of Miss Katherine Lynn Theus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kennedy Theus, and Hugh McDonald, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. McDonald. The couple will be united in marriage on October 14 in the Jesus the Good Shepherd Catholic Church. A barbecue feted them on Saturday, September 23, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Allen on Jasmine Street.

Co-hosts for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bernstein Jr. The house, porch and patio was decorated with arrangements of rubrum lilies and native greenery. The dining table, covered with a green cloth, was centered with a footed silver bowl holding a grouping of white periwinkle. An antique cut glass decanter filled with white periwinkle graced the buffet. Guests were also seated at individual tables on the porch.

Miss Theus wore a sports ensemble in paisley tones of blue and green for her party.

Guests sharing the occasion with Miss Theus and Mr. McDonald were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gibson McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. William Ledoux, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ledoux, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Guerriero, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lucas Adams III, Miss Mary Jo Davenport and George Trousdale.

COFFEE

A sherry and coffee party complimented Miss Theus on Wednesday, September 20 in the Pargoud Boulevard home of Mrs. Merton Abington. Mrs. W. Kennedy Abington and Mrs. Merton Abington were co-hostesses for the party which lasted from four until six in the afternoon.

As guests arrived they were greeted by Miss Fran Guthrie and Mrs. Thomas B. Godfrey Jr.

In the living room a massive arrangement of Fugi mums and Baker fern in a footed silver bowl was placed at a vantage point. The dining room table was covered with an Italian cutwork cloth and centered with a silver epergne holding gardenias, rain lilies ad maidenhair fern. An arrangement of white mums in a silver bowl was placed on the serving table.

Alternating at the coffee service during the afternoon were Mrs. Ronald Lee Davis Jr., Mrs. Pierre Lauve, Mrs. Lamar Buffington and Mrs. Hayden Cutler Jr. Also assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Paul Tennis, Mrs. Edward Seymour Jr., Mrs. Richard Guerriero and Mrs. Joseph Ledous.

Miss Theus, wearing a navy blue silk shantung sheath with a short jacket, received a corsage of gardenias. All who assisted with the courtesies wore nosegays of gardenias.

Approximately fifty guests called between the appointed hours.

AFTERNOON PARTY

The home of Mrs. Gordon Cummings on Lexington Avenue was the setting for a coffee and sherry party honoring Miss Theus on Thursday, September 21st, from 4:00 until 6:00 p.m.

On an antique table in the reception hall a footed silver bowl contained an arrangement of Princess Feathers and False Dragonhead. In the living room was a blue Chinese bowl with pale pink roses and pink althea and a container of milk glass filled with white gardenias.

In the dining room the focal point of the table was a large milk glass epergne filled with myriads of frosted green grapes. Mrs. Hugh Gibson McDonald, mother of the groom-elect, assisted the hostess with serving.

Miss Theus was wearing a trousseau model in pale beige silk with a full skirt.

Approximately forty guests attended the afternoon party.

Tea Shower Compliments Mrs. Gilley Near Alto

Mrs. Rex Gilley, formerly Miss Linda Guarisco of Morgan City, was honored with an introductory tea and miscellaneous shower in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Gilley near Alto.

Cohosting the event were Mrs. Leon Gilley, Mrs. Earl Pailette, Mrs. G. T. Pailette, and Mrs. Freddie Gilley.

The reception suite of the Gilley home was made festive with massive arrangements of autumn flowers shading from pale gold to deep yellow. On the piano in the living room was placed an antique crystal bowl on a pedestal, which held an arrangement of yellow dahlias. On the coffee table was noted a pyramid arrangement of gold zinnias.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Freddie Gilley, who wore a pale green sheath dress; Mrs Clinton Gilley, mother of the bridegroom who chose olive green silk and the guest of honor, who wore a white model with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Their corsages were all of gold mums.

Miss Bobbie Nell Brunson, invited guests to register at an antique round table which was covered with a hand crocheted cloth and centered with a memory candle entwined with clematis.

The refreshment table in the dining room was overlaid in white damask. Placed off center was a crystal pedestal epergne holding a fanshaped arrangement of gold mums and clematis, and flanked by tall white tapers in crystal holders.

Mrs. Robert Brunson served punch from the crystal bowl. Tea girls Judy Boughton, Sandra Kay Brunson and Diane Brunson offered a variety of tea confections to the guests.

Miss Joyce Gilley recorded the gifts and placed them on long tables, covered in white, which were placed in the den.

The hostess' gift to the honoree was a set of stainless steel cooking utensils.

Among the guests who called between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock were Mrs. R. B. Boughton, Mrs. Agnes Roberts, Mrs. John Holdiness Jr. Mrs. John Holdiness Sr., Mrs. Eugene Johnson, Mrs. B. E. Roberts, Mrs. Kate Gattis Mrs. Willie Choat, Mrs. T. J. Murray, Mrs. Henry Sheppard, Mrs. John Boies Mrs. Dawson Childress, Mrs. Manning Hewitt, Mrs. Samuel Brunson, Mrs. Dock Hill, Mrs. Charles Ola Jones, Mrs. George Gilley, Mrs. Charlie Pailette, Mrs. Richard Duncan, Mrs. Willie Brunson Mrs. Flem Hatch Mrs. Noble Hatch, Mrs. George DuCote, Mrs Donald Wilkerson, Mrs. Harper Willis, Mrs. W. L. McIntosh, Mrs. Earl Moore, Mrs. W. T. Sartor, Mrs. Ray Rhinehart, all of the Alto area; and Mrs. Hulet Gilley, Mrs. Louise Lockett, Mrs. Peggy Grubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Poindexter, Mrs. Ed Nelson Williamson, Mrs. Dorothy Allen all of Monroe; and Mrs. Lee Roy Thomason of Winnsboro.

1962 Buicks Display Set On Wednesday

Riley Buick will show 1962 Buicks Wednesday, dealer William Riley announced.

The newly styled automobiles will feature a 90-degree V-6 engine in the Special series which has been expanded to include a two-door convertible.

All regular size cars boast a completely new design with sporty new roof styles and long sweeping lines that make the car look bigger and more massive.

For the first time, Buick will offer a two-door hardtop that looks like a regular convertible. These models are available in the Invicta and LeSabre series.

Interiors in the regular line have been completely restyled, and the latest luxury fabrics in nylon, leather and vinyl are employed. Styling of the Skylark, the luxury model in the small car line, has been extended to the entire Special line for 1962.

The transmission hump in the front compartment is almost entirely eliminated in the regular line.

Commenting on the new V-6 engine, Riley said "It has performance characteristics of a V-8, yet it is from 140 to 179 pounds lighter than in-line sixes of comparable power output."

Riley said the new engine will offer the advantages of lower initial cost, lower operating costs, more miles per gallon of fuel and lower maintenance expense.

Besides styling changes, numerous mechanical and engineering changes have been made throughout the Invicta, Electra, Special, LeSabre and Skylark series.

East pulled off a highly ingenious bit of deception today to defeat a vulnerable slam contract that was virtually in the bag.

South opened the bidding with one heart and North responded with two diamonds. South's rebid of two spades shows considerable strength inasmuch as partner is forced into the three level to show a preference for hearts. When North jumped to four spades, South embarked on a Blackwood campaign. Finding that the partnership lacked an ace he settled for a small slam.

West, with his utterly hopeless hand, opened the six of diamonds and dummy played the jack. To East, this was marked beyond any question as a singleton, for the only diamond out of view was the nine which was obviously held by declarer, for West would hardly have led the six from a holding of nine-six. If East won the trick with the queen and returned the suit, declarer might be put on guard as to the impendding danger and ruff high enough to shut out West. East therefore set up a smoke screen by winning with the ace and returning the four. There seemed to be no doubt that the queen of diamonds was in the West hand, so declarer is hardly to be taken to task for discarding on the diamond return. When West ruffed in, South had a rude awakening.

I suppose that purists will point out that South might just as well have ruffed the return with the seven of spades and perhaps they are right but, I for one am not going to hold this against South's record for deportment. I shall look upon him as an outraged victim.

Hodges Predicts Rolls Of Jobless Will Decrease

CHICAGO (UPI) — Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges said Monday the nation has "now made up the recession losses in employment" and prdictd jobless rolls will b whittld to "5½ or 6 per cent" of the working force by the end of the year.

Hodges spoke at the convention of the National Stationary & Office Equipment Association.

Hodges pointed out that the gross national product reached an annual rate of $526 billion during the third quarter of the current year. He forecast a $540 billion rate during the final three months.

This will mean "a growth of 8 per cent in just nine months. This is a remarkable figure for us," the former North Carolina governor said.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Last Thursday was one of the hottest days in our city's history. Our wonderful 14-year-old collie was in the yard as usual. I had to fill his water pan three times.

About mid-afternoon he began to whine so I let him in the house. He looked at me pleadingly, panted a few times and then rolled over and died. Blaze was like a member of the family. It took all my strength to call my neighbor and ask her to bury him—which she did.

When my husband came home I told him about Blaze. He turned on me like a maniac. He said I was stupid not to call a vet. He claims the vet might have saved him. I tried to explain Blaze dropped dead before I knew anything was wrong but he refused to listen.

My husband then went to the phone and called his mother and sisters and told them that my stupidity had killed the dog. Nothing I said seemed to get through. I'm really annoyed at him for making me out to be a nut. Any advice? —WILMA

Dear Wilma: Your husband is distraught over the death of the dog and he is reacting in a childlike manner—placing the blame on the handiest party. A dog 14 years old is equivalent to a human being of 98. I'd say Blaze lived a good, full life.

Go out and buy another collie as soon as possible. Name him Blaze, Jr. and tell your husband to button his lip already.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm getting pretty fed up on the actions of a certain man who has been coming over to play cards with my father for as long as I can remember. He always brings me a sack of candy as if I were two years old.

I'm 15 now and I think it's time he stopped trying to kiss me on the lips and pull me onto his lap. I told my mother that maybe this was all right when I was a baby but I'm a young lady now and I hate it. I also told her that if he doesn't stop pawing me I am going to sock him right in the chops. ay I have your O. K.? —NO INFANT

Dear No Infant: Sorry, but a young lady doesn't go around socking her father's friends — or anyone else—in the chops.

You are perfectly right to resent his behavior but there's a better way to handle the old coot.

Tell him you've outgrown the baby stuff and from now on his greeting is a handshake. If he doesn't get in line tell your father to give him the message—man to man.

Dear Ann: I'm a bride of two months who needs your opinion. I attended college in the southeast and graduated three years ago. Since then I have carried on a rather extensive correspondence with college friends—both male and female.

It is my turn to answer several of these letters but my husband says a married woman should not correspond with males, even if it is platonic. I'd hate to lose track of these people because they are good friends. Our letters have always been strictly informational and I was never romantically involved with any of these fellows.

Do you feel that my husband is right? He calls it "preventive surgery." —MRS. A. W. K.

Dear Mrs. A. W. K.: I hope he's not a surgeon. Too much hacking away of healthy tissue can be dangerous.

A mature man should be able to tolerate his wife's correspondence with old college friends.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teenagers if you read "Ann Landers' " booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

"Dear Mrs. Eldred:

"I have had a comparatively easy time with my boy, who is now 5 years old. He used to have temper tantrums when he was about two, but he outgrew these and was a pretty nice little guy.

"But 'now' If I ask him to pick up his toys, or bring his tricycle into the garage, or put his clothes on their hooks, he throws himself on the floor and kicks and screams. I think the neighbors believe I am killing him. Even the littlest thing I ask him is too much for him to do. He now has the habit of calling me an "old meany" and saying, I hate you

"This absolutely throws me. I try to be nice and understanding, but at times I actually admit that I dislike him. Why is he so antagonistic?"

ANSWER

Because he is going through a period that is quite similar to the one at two years. A child of five is aggressive, but disdains cooperation. He wants to act just as independent as he thinks he is.

At some time or another every parent has had the word hate thrown at her like a stone. The word is much more drastic than the emotion the child feels. If he had a bigger vocabulary, he would be able to say that he is frustrated when held down to household duties. Instead, he says he hates you.

When he is calm, you can talk to him about his feelings. Admit that, at times, he probably dislikes you because you are making him do what he doesn't want to do. Admit that at times you feel somewhat the same: not hate—but certainly deep irritation at his behavior. When he is calm, you can make it more understandable.

A FEW TASKS

At this age he is able to help, but don't expect too much of him. Make out a short list of tasks you expect him to fulfill during the day, and suggest he mark them off when he has finished. Don't pay him for his work, but offer him some treat at the end of a week when all his tasks have been done. And when he does say, "I hate you," retaliate with, "But I love you." That will work better than anger against anger.

If you would like our free leaflet, "Home Tasks," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your requests for leaflet No. 49 to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "When Johnny Doesn't Come Marching Home, You've Got To Go Get Him."

THE CLEAN, uncluttered styling of Buick for 1962 is exemplified in the Electra 225 series with its sporty new roofline and its tailored rear deckline with the wind-split down the center. The long, sweeping lines of the front and rear decklid with fenders make the car look bigger without increasing its size. The new roofline wih its wide, sloping rear pillars identify the Electra 225 series, one of the most luxurious cars in the fine car field. Passenger comfort has been improved for 1962 by the almost complete elimination of the transmission hump in the floor of the front passenger compartment. The Electra 225 is powered by a 401 cubic inch V-8 engine with four-barrel carburetor, coupled with Buick's smooth Turbine Drive transmission.

Miss Theus, Mr. McDonald Honored With Parties Prior To Wedding Vows

A gala round of parties this past week have been given in honor of the approaching wedding of Miss Katherine Lynn Theus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kennedy Theus, and Hugh McDonald, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. McDonald. The couple will be united in marriage on October 14 in the Jesus the Good Shepherd Catholic Church. A barbecue feted them on Saturday, September 23, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Allen on Jasmine Street.

Co-hosts for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bernstein Jr. The house, porch and patio was decorated with arrangements of rubrum lilies and native greenery. The dining table, covered with a green cloth, was centered with a footed silver bowl holding a grouping of white periwinkle. An antique cut glass decanter filled with white periwinkle graced the buffet. Guests were also seated at individual tables on the porch.

Miss Theus wore a sports ensemble in paisley tones of blue and green for her party.

Guests sharing the occasion with Miss Theus and Mr. McDonald were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gibson McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. William Ledoux, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ledoux, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Guerriero, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lucas Adams III, Miss Mary Jo Davenport and George Trousdale.

COFFEE

A sherry and coffee party complimented Miss Theus on Wednesday, September 20 in the Pargoud Boulevard home of Mrs. Merton Abington. Mrs. W. Kennedy Abington and Mrs. Merton Abington were co-hostesses for the party which lasted from four until six in the afternoon.

As guests arrived they were greeted by Miss Fran Guthrie and Mrs. Thomas B. Godfrey Jr.

In the living room a massive arrangement of Fugi mums and Baker fern in a footed silver bowl was placed at a vantage point. The dining room table was covered with an Italian cutwork cloth and centered with a silver epergne holding gardenias, rain lilies ad maidenhair fern. An arrangement of white mums in a silver bowl was placed on the serving table.

Alternating at the coffee service during the afternoon were Mrs. Ronald Lee Davis Jr., Mrs. Pierre Lauve, Mrs. Lamar Buffington and Mrs. Hayden Cutler Jr. Also assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Paul Tennis, Mrs. Edward Seymour Jr., Mrs. Richard Guerriero and Mrs. Joseph Ledous.

Miss Theus, wearing a navy blue silk shantung sheath with a short jacket, received a corsage of gardenias. All who assisted with the courtesies wore nosegays of gardenias.

Approximately fifty guests called between the appointed hours.

AFTERNOON PARTY

The home of Mrs. Gordon Cummings on Lexington Avenue was the setting for a coffee and sherry party honoring Miss Theus on Thursday, September 21st, from 4:00 until 6:00 p.m.

On an antique table in the reception hall a footed silver bowl contained an arrangement of Princess Feathers and False Dragonhead. In the living room was a blue Chinese bowl with pale pink roses and pink althea and a container of milk glass filled with white gardenias.

In the dining room the focal point of the table was a large milk glass epergne filled with myriads of frosted green grapes. Mrs. Hugh Gibson McDonald, mother of the groom-elect, assisted the hostess with serving.

Miss Theus was wearing a trousseau model in pale beige silk with a full skirt.

Approximately forty guests attended the afternoon party.

Tea Shower Compliments Mrs. Gilley Near Alto

Mrs. Rex Gilley, formerly Miss Linda Guarisco of Morgan City, was honored with an introductory tea and miscellaneous shower in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Gilley near Alto.

Cohosting the event were Mrs. Leon Gilley, Mrs. Earl Pailette, Mrs. G. T. Pailette, and Mrs. Freddie Gilley.

The reception suite of the Gilley home was made festive with massive arrangements of autumn flowers shading from pale gold to deep yellow. On the piano in the living room was placed an antique crystal bowl on a pedestal, which held an arrangement of yellow dahlias. On the coffee table was noted a pyramid arrangement of gold zinnias.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Freddie Gilley, who wore a pale green sheath dress; Mrs Clinton Gilley, mother of the bridegroom who chose olive green silk and the guest of honor, who wore a white model with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Their corsages were all of gold mums.

Miss Bobbie Nell Brunson, invited guests to register at an antique round table which was covered with a hand crocheted cloth and centered with a memory candle entwined with clematis.

The refreshment table in the dining room was overlaid in white damask. Placed off center was a crystal pedestal epergne holding a fanshaped arrangement of gold mums and clematis, and flanked by tall white tapers in crystal holders.

Mrs. Robert Brunson served punch from the crystal bowl. Tea girls, Judy Boughton, Sandra Kay Brunson and Diane Brunson offered a variety of tea confections to the guests.

Miss Joyce Gilley recorded the gifts and placed them on long tables, covered in white, which were placed in the den.

The hostess' gift to the honoree was a set of stainless steel cooking utensils.

Among the guests who called between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock were Mrs. R. B. Boughton, Mrs. Agnes Roberts, Mrs. John Holdiness Jr., Mrs. John Holdiness Sr., Mrs. Eugene Johnson, Mrs. B. E. Roberts, Mrs. Kate Gattis Mrs. Willie Choat, Mrs. T. J. 1962 Buicks Display Set On Wednesday

Riley Buick will show 1962 Buicks Wednesday, dealer William Riley announced.

The newly styled automobiles will feature a 90-degree V-6 engine in the Special series which has been expanded to include a two-door convertible.

All regular size cars boast a completely new design with sporty new roof styles and long sweeping lines that make the car look bigger and more massive.

For the first time, Buick will offer a two-door hardtop that looks like a regular convertible. These models are available in the Invicta and LeSabre series.

Interiors in the regular line have been completely restyled, and the latest luxury fabrics in nylon, leather and vinyl are employed. Styling of the Skylark, the luxury model in the small car line, has been extended to the entire Special line for 1962.

The transmission hump in the front compartment is almost entirely eliminated in the regular line.

Commenting on the new V-6 engine, Riley said "It has performance characteristics of a V-8, yet it is from 140 to 179 pounds lighter than in-line sixes of comparable power output."

Riley said the new engine will offer the advantages of lower initial cost, lower operating costs, more miles per gallon of fuel and lower maintenance expense.

Besides styling changes, numerous mechanical and engineering changes have been made throughout the Invicta, Electra, Special, LeSabre and Skylark series.

East pulled off a highly ingenious bit of deception today to defeat a vulnerable slam contract that was virtually in the bag.

South opened the bidding with one heart and North responded with two diamonds. South's rebid of two spades shows considerable strength inasmuch as partner is forced into the three level to show a preference for hearts. When North jumped to four spades, South embarked on a Blackwood campaign. Finding that the partnership lacked an ace he settled for a small slam.

West, with his utterly hopeless hand, opened the six of diamonds and dummy played the jack. To East, this was marked beyond any question as a singleton, for the only diamond out of view was the nine which was obviously held by declarer, for West would hardly have led the six from a holding of nine-six. If East won the trick with the queen and returned the suit, declarer might be put on guard as to the impendding danger and ruff high enough to shut out West. East therefore set up a smoke screen by winning with the ace and returning the four. There seemed to be no doubt that the queen of diamonds was in the West hand, so declarer is hardly to be taken to task for discarding on the diamond return. When West ruffed in, South had a rude awakening.

I suppose that purists will point out that South might just as well have ruffed the return with the seven of spades and perhaps they are right but, I for one am not going to hold this against South's record for deportment. I shall look upon him as an outraged victim.

Hodges Predicts Rolls Of Jobless Will Decrease

CHICAGO (UPI) — Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges said Monday the nation has "now made up the recession losses in employment" and prdictd joblss rolls will b whittld to "5½ or 6 per cent" of the working force by the end of the year.

Hodges spoke at the convention of the National Stationary & Office Equipment Association.

Hodges pointed out that the gross national product reached an annual rate of $526 billion during the third quarter of the current year. He forecast a $540 billion rate during the final three months.

This will mean "a growth of 8 per cent in just nine months. This is a remarkable figure for us," the former North Carolina governor said.

FINAL FIVE GAMES

Rog Maris Ready For Last Attempt

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris and the New York Yankees return to Yankee Stadium Tuesday night for the last five games of the season with Maris still looking for that magic No. 60 in the home run race. Maris hit his 59th last Wednesday in Baltimore.

Although Babe Ruth's all-time record of 60 set in 1927 is safe through edict of Commissioner Ford Frick because Maris failed to tie or break it in 154 decisions, he still can set a mark for the longer schedule. Because of the expansion to 10 clubs the American League is playing a 162 game [illegible]

Baltimore [illegible] Tuesday night and Wednesday afternoon. After an off day Thursday the Yanks will finish at home with Boston Friday night and single day games Saturday and Sunday.

Manager Ralph Houk gave the team a day off Monday before they start tuning up for the World Series opening Wednesday, Oct. 4 at the Stadium, presumably against Cincinnati.

Maris still is feeling the pressure of the home run race. Day by day his chances of becoming the first man since Ruth to hit 60 homers grow slimmer and slimmer.

"The way things are going I don't even think I'll hit 60 by the end of the season," he said Monday. "Right now I'd have to say the odds are against me even though I've got five games left [illegible] in New York. My only hope [illegible] seems is [illegible] to start [illegible] them [illegible] pitchers to make a mistake. But [illegible] knows.

"They're not giving me [illegible] They're more concerned with getting me to go [illegible] than in getting me out. But I've got to keep swinging [illegible] going to keep swinging [illegible] walks.

"Normally I should have a better chance at Yankee Stadium than [illegible] if they pitched to me. But the same thing will happen. They'll [illegible] me outside."

Mickey Mantle, who has 54 homers, [illegible] the pitchers too have a big stake in the home run derby.

"Don't [illegible] think pitchers have feelings [illegible] the same as [illegible] hitters?" he said. "Do you think they [illegible] being [illegible] Maris the last week [illegible]

"[illegible] None of them wants to be the [illegible] who goes down in the book as the one who served up the 60th home run."

Baltimore [illegible] which has yielded only two homers to Maris all season [illegible] again. Jack Fisher (10-12) a 23-year old right-hander is due to work Tuesday night. Steven Barber (17-12), the lefty who is Maris' particular nemesis, was knocked out early Sunday and could come back Wednesday. Of course Hoyt Wilhelm (9-7), the old knuckleballer [illegible]

Shaw Pitches Three-Hitter In A's Win

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Veteran right-hander Bob Shaw of the Kansas City Athletics defeated the Detroit Tigers 6-3 Monday night on a three-hitter, Bubba Morton spoiling his bid for a no-hitter with a line single to center in the sixth inning.

Going into the ninth Shaw struck out five Detroit batters, walked three and hit one with a pitch.

Shortstop Dick McAuliffe of the Tigers, who had been hit by a pitch leading off the first and walked leading off the seventh, [illegible] to A's shortstop Dick Howser, but Howser's throw [illegible] wide and McAuliffe was safe on the error.

Morton then [illegible] and the runners advanced on an infield out. George Alusik scored McAuliffe with a sacrifice fly and Larry Osborne hit a home run over the right field fence.

Detroit's third hit was by Jake Wood, who also got a pair of key hits in the first game of the doubleheader, which Detroit won 6-4.

Troublesome Nines Stand Before Title

CINCINNATI (AP) If the Cincinnati Reds win the National League championship on their own they'll have to do it against the two clubs that have caused them the most trouble this season.

The Reds, who have the magic number of two—Cincinnati victories and/or Los Angeles defeats—to clinch the pennant, will meet the Chicago Cubs at Chicago Tuesday and then will close out the season with three games at Pittsburgh Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Meanwhile the Dodgers have six games remaining with Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Chicago.

The Cubs, although buried deep in seventh place, hold a 12-9 margin over Cincinnati for the season. The Reds finally squeezed ahead of Pittsburgh on the season series last week when they swept a pair of games with the dethroned champs but the margin is only 10-9.

Manager Fred Hutchison said he will pitch Bob Purkey against the Cubs Tuesday.

[illegible] Jim O'Toole, Joey Jay and Purkey in Pittsburgh [illegible]

Although Purkey has been one of the three top pitchers on the Reds' roster, he never has had a lot of success against Chicago. He has dropped two of three decisions to the Bruins this year and has a lifetime record of only [illegible]

Hutchison bemoaned a [illegible] A Reds' hurlers [illegible] two of three to San Francisco [illegible] walked 16 men in the three games and none of the walks were converted into runs.

As the season moved into its last week, only two Cincinnati [illegible] were ailing to any extent. Third baseman Gene Freese still [illegible] with a sprained ankle and outfielder Vada Pinson [illegible]

General Manager Bill DeWitt said approximately 146,000 World Series ticket applications already have been received for about 30,000 seats, 10,000 for each of three possible games [illegible] Crosley Field [illegible]

MEMBERS of the Los Angeles Dodgers watch as the Forbes Field ground crew tries to get the automatic tarpaulin back in it's hole last night. The crew had it's troubles though and by the time they had the tarp working the rain started again. The game between the Dodgers and Pittsburgh had to be called. A twilight doubleheader was scheduled for today. (AP Wirephoto)

Finley Asks Frick Withdraw His Apology To Ernie Mehl

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, has asked Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to withdraw an apology Frick made to Ernie Mehl, sports editor of the Kansas City Star, "both personally [illegible] in the name of baseball." [illegible]

Finley made the request in a 20-page letter addressed to Frick and dated Sept. 5. The Athletics office said Monday copies of the letter were distributed to season ticket holders and people on a [illegible] supplied by the Chamber of Commerce.

Finley accused Frick of failing to investigate before making the apology and suggested that under the Major League Agreement the commissioner should have taken action against Mehl.

The apology stemmed from Finley's action [illegible] making a [illegible] to Mehl after [illegible] written several articles [illegible] Finley's [illegible] of the baseball club.

[illegible] is due, it [illegible] come to me, because I have done no moral wrong but have myself been the victim of one of the most scurrilous attacks in baseball history."

Much of the letter consisted of a point-by-point rebuttal of charges Mehl made in his articles.

Finley referred at one point to an article published Aug. 17, in which the sports writer said: "A number of scouts are threatening to quit." The owner wrote Frick:

"To my knowledge no scouts have threatened to quit." The word "no" was underlined.

Monday it was learned that six scouts have quit, indicating dissatisfaction with the A's operation.

FOR ANOTHER YEAR

Lopez Contracts With Sox Again

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Al Lopez signed Monday to pilot the Chicago White Sox for another year despite having one of the worst seasons of his managerial career.

His salary was unannounced, but reportedly it was near $50,000.

Until the Sox finished third last year, Lopez never had managed a team lower than second place. This year the Sox will finish fourth.

But this doesn't disillusion Lopez. "Sure I'm disappointed in our club's performance but that doesn't mean we don't have a good club," he said.

Wholesale [illegible] Lopez [illegible] say that [illegible] leading [illegible]

Lopez [illegible] New York Yankees [illegible] pennants at Cleveland in 1954 and Chicago in 1959 [illegible] the flag in 1962.

We [illegible] season. We have an excellent nucleus.

Three strong armed pitchers, several proven stars and a few youngsters comprise the nucleus which Lopez and Ed Short, the Sox general manager, believe will put the Sox back into pennant contention.

The [illegible] Pizarro, 24 and Frank Baumann [illegible] Herbert [illegible] The proven stars [illegible] Luis Aparicio [illegible] Jim Landis [illegible] J. C. Martin [illegible]

[illegible] veterans [illegible] Minnie Minoso [illegible] Roy Sievers, catcher [illegible] second baseman Nellie Fox and possibly [illegible] outfielder Al Smith could [illegible] trade bait. [illegible]

[illegible] early [illegible] the season, Sievers [illegible] Fox has had one of his worst years, and [illegible] two decades of professional baseball have taken a lot out of 37-year-old Lollar.

Lopez does not believe the Yankees are as strong as their run for the pennant this year would indicate.

"Sure, they've had a great year," he said. "But we made things easier for them. Our club didn't play up to expectations. Neither did Cleveland and Baltimore. Detroit gave them the best run and they surprised me by hanging on as long as they did. They did a helluva job.

"Our league will get stronger next year because we'll have worked out our expansion experiment. With a stronger league nobody can run away with the pennant and several teams might be fighting for the title next September.

"Our first job will be to revamp the bullpen," Lopez continued. "Then we hope to add to our pitching staff and gradually get around to balancing our club. Pitching, defense and power all are important but the real solution is balance."

Bum-Buc Game Postponed By Heavy Rains

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Heavy rain forced postponement of the Pittsburgh-Los Angeles baseball game Monday night.

Because of the importance of the game to the National League pennant race, officials waited nearly two hours before postponing the game.

It was rescheduled as part of a twi-night doubleheader Tuesday.

Touch Football

The Seven Pointers [illegible] 24-0 [illegible] touch football yesterday. Sneed scored 12 points, Gaventa [illegible] Reese [illegible] Hinkle tossed two touchdown passes and [illegible] one.

The Red [illegible] Rangers 20-0 in another tilt. T. Reeves and McGowan combined on the scoring, both getting 12 points. Reardon tossed one TD pass and T. Reaves another.

The Cowards downed the Gators 18-0 with Goldsmith, Barker and Garlington each getting a touchdown and Garlington being on the throwing end of one TD.

The Eagles topped the Yellow Jackets 18-6. B. J. Thomas scored 12 points, Head six. Amos tossed two touchdown passes. Robinson hit Collins with the Jackets TD aerial.

Rebs Win Two

West Monroe won a Freshman and JV game from Ruston here last night. The Frosh won 27-7, the JVs, 24-14.

Ray Alexander scored three touchdowns and Ken Head one, while Alexander added two PAT's and Danny Perkins one in the Frosh game.

Parkman scored Ruston's lone TD.

Racing Paul Hobgood put on a one-man show to trounce Ruston in the Jayvee game. Hobgood scored all four Rebel TD's on runs of 56, 50, 40 and one yard. The one yard score was set up by a 50-yard Hobgood run that went to the one.

Tony Basking scored one Ruston touchdown and Pat Adney the other. Baskin made both points after touchdown.

Lighest man on the Northeast State football squad is freshman quarterback Ronnie Myrick of Oak Grove. He tips the scales at 160 pounds.

BATTING LEADERS

Orlando Cepeda Leading Giants

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)— By increasing his leads in the National League home run and runs-batted-in competition San Francisco slugger Orlando Cepeda has virtually achieved a "first" for a Giants' ballplayer.

Cepeda walloped five homers and drove in nine runs last week, boosting his totals to 45 home runs and 136 RBI. Teammate Willie Mays is second in homers with 39 while Cincinnati's Frank Robinson is a distant runner-up in the RBI race with 121.

No Giant ever has owned outright both the homer and RBI titles. Giant players have won the runs-batted-in championship six times. When Monte Irvin won it in 1951 the home run king was Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner. Johnny Mize was the leader in 1947, but he shared the homer crown with Kiner. Mize also was the top RBI man in 1942, but Mel Ott, also of the Giants, hit the most homers.

Ott drove in the most runs in 1934 when he shared the home run title with Rip Collins of St. Louis. Jake Fournier of Brooklyn had the most homers in 1924 when Long George Kelley of the Giants drove in the most runs. And in 1923 when Irish Meusel of the Giants had the top RBI total the home run champ was Fred Williams of Philadelphia.

With only one week remaining in the 1961 campaign, only the outcome of the American League runs batted in race appears in doubt among the major batting departments.

Jim Gentile of Baltimore drove in seven runs last week and closed in on pace-setting Roger Maris of New York. Maris, who leads with 59 homers, had only two RBI for a season's total of 140. Gentile has 138 followed by Detroit's Rocky Colavito with 135.

Norm Cash of Detroit has just about clinched the American League batting title. He has a 356 average, a drop of three points from last week. Elston Howard of New York owns a 359 mark but he will not qualify for the championship. He has 462 total appearances on 432 official at bats, 25 walks, four sacrifices and one hit by pitch. Under AL rules 502 total appearances are necessary for title consideration. The Yanks have only five games left to play.

Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh holds a 13-point lead over Cincinnati's Vada Pinson in the National League batting chase. Clemente is at 355 and Pinson at 342.

Braves Take Tighter Grip On 4th Spot

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves strengthened their hold on fourth place by defeating the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 Monday night before a chilled crowd of 4,689, the smallest turnout in County Stadium history.

Carl Willey, with ninth-inning relief from Don McMahon, earned his sixth victory in 18 decisions as the Braves moved two games ahead of the Cardinals in the battle for a share of world series money.

Hank Aaron hit his 34th homer in the first inning and the Braves added another run in the fourth on a single by Joe Adcock, Joe Torre's double to deep center and a balk by rookie Ray Washburn.

Willey was replaced by McMahon after Julian Javier opened the ninth with a walk. Javier moved to third on a double by Ken Boyer and scored on an infield out by Stan Musial.

Reds Must Win Against Worst

Troublesome Nines Stand Before Title

CICINNATI (AP) If the Cincinnati Reds win the National League championship on their own they'll have to do it against the two clubs that have caused them the most trouble this season.

The Reds, who have the "magic number" of two—Cincinnati victories and-or Los Angeles defeats—to clinch the pennant, will meet the Chicago Cubs at Chicago Tuesday and then will close out the season with three games at Pittsburgh Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Meanwhile the Dodgers have six games remaining with Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Chicago.

The Cubs, although buried deep in seventh place, hold a 12-9 margin over Cincinnati for the season. The Reds finally squeezed ahead of Pittsburgh on the season series last week when they swept a pair of games with the dethroned champs but the margin is only 10-9.

Manager Fred Hutchison said he will pitch Bob Purkey against the Cubs Tuesday.

"I'll pitch Jim O'Toole, Joey Jay and Purkey in Pittsburgh," he added.

Although Purkey has been one of the three top pitchers on the Reds' roster, he never has had a lot of success against Chicago. He has dropped two of three decisions to the Bruins this year and has a lifetime record of only 9-11 against them.

Hutchison bemoaned a seige of wildness by Reds' hurlers in losing two of three to San Francisco. They walked 16 men in the three games and nine of the walks were converted into runs.

Club officials also disclosed that if the Reds clinch the pennant Tuesday, the team will come home for a victory celebration. If the pennant isn't clinched, the team will go direct to Pittsburgh to wait.

As the season moved into its last week, only two Cincinnatian players were ailing to any extent. Third baseman Gene Freese still has a bit of trouble with a jammed ankle and outfielder Vada Pinson has a sore hand.

General Manager Bill DeWitt said approximately 146,000 World Series ticket applications already have been received for about 30,000 seats—10,000 for each of three possible games here. All other seats in Crosley Field with its 29,625 seating capacity have been alloted.

FINAL FIVE GAMES

Rog Maris Ready For Last Attempt

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris and the New York Yankees return to Yankee Stadium Tuesday night for the last five games of the season with Maris still looking for that magic No. 60 in the home run race. Maris hit his 59th last Wednesday in Baltimore.

Although Babe Ruth's all-time record of 60 set in 1927 is safe through edict of Commissioner Ford Frick because Maris failed to tie or break it in 154 decisions, he still can set a mark for the longer schedule. Because of the expansion to 10 clubs, the American League is playing 162 game this year.

Baltimore will provide the opposition Tuesday night and Wednesday afternoon. After an off day Thursday, the Yanks will finish up at home with Boston Friday night and single day games Saturday and Sunday.

Manager Rlph Houk gave the team a day off Monday before they start tuning up for the World Series opening Wednesday, Oct. 4 at the Stadium, presumably against Cincinnati.

Maris still is feeling the pressure of the home run race. Day by day his chances of becoming the first man since Ruth to hit 60 homers grow slimmer and slimmer.

"The way things are going I don't even think I'll hit 60 by the end of the season," he said Monday. "Right now, I'd have to say the odds are against me even though I've got five games left, all in New York. My only hope, it seems is to wait for them (pitchers) to make a mistake. But can I? I just don't know.

"They're not giving me anything to hit. They're more concerned with getting me to go after a bad pitch than in getting me out. But I've got to keep swinging. I'd rather go down swinging than go out walking.

"Normally I should have a better chance at Yankee Stadium. That is, if they pitched to me. But the same thing will happen. They'll pitch me outside."

Mickey Mantle, who has 54 homers, pointed out that the pitchers, too, have a big stake in the home run derby.

"Don't you think pitchers have feelings just the same as hitters?," he said. "Do you think they haven't been bearing down on Maris the last week more so than ever before?

"It's pride. None of them wants to be the guy who goes down in the book as the one who served up the 60th home run."

Baltimore pitching, which has yielded only two homers to Maris all season, figures to be tough again. Jack Fisher (10-12), a 23-year old right-hander, is due to work Tuesday night. Steven Barber, (17-12) the lefty who is Maris' particular nemesis, was knocked out early Sunday and could come back by Wednesday. Of course, Hoyt Wilhelm (97), the old knuckleball artist, will be ready in the bullpen.

Boston can be counted upon to use Don Schwall (15-6) and Bill Monbouquette (14-13) who thwarted Maris at Fenway Park. Gene Conley 11-13) could be that other pitcher.

Shaw Pitches Three-Hitter In A's Win

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Veteran right-hander Bob Shaw of the Kansas City Athletics defeated the Detroit Tigers 6-3 Monday night on a three-hitter, Bubba Morton spoiling his bid for a no-hitter with a line single to center in the ninth inning.

Going into the ninth Shaw struck out five Detroit batters, walked three and hit one with a pitch.

Shortstop Dick McAuliffe of the Tigers, who had been hit by a pitch leading off the first and walked leading off the seventh, bounced to A's shortstop Dick Howser but Howser's throw to first was wide and McAuliffe was safe on the error.

Morton then got his single and the runners advanced on an infield out. George Alusik scored McAuliffe with a sacrifice fly and Larry Osborne hit a home run over the right field fence.

Detroit's third hit was by Jake Wood, who also got a pair of key hits in the first game of the doubleheader, which Detroit won 6-4.

Frank House made the final out, popping to Howser.

In the opener, a five-run eight inning turned the trick.

Wood, who had driven in Detroit's first run with a triple in the second inning, also drove in the second with a single in the eighth and scored himself on a pinch triple by Al Kaline.

Giants Smash Phillies 10-2 On 18 Bingles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rookie John Orsino smacked two home runs to pace an 18-hit attack Monday night as the San Francisco Giants defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 10-2.

Orsino added a single to his pair of homers while Orlando Cepeda had four hits and four runs batted in.

Cepeda's three singles and a double gave him 16 hits in his last 25 times at bat.

The Giants rocked starter Don Ferrarese for three runs in the first two innings, then tore into John Buzhardt for five in the next three innings.

Orsino's homers matched his season total going into the game.

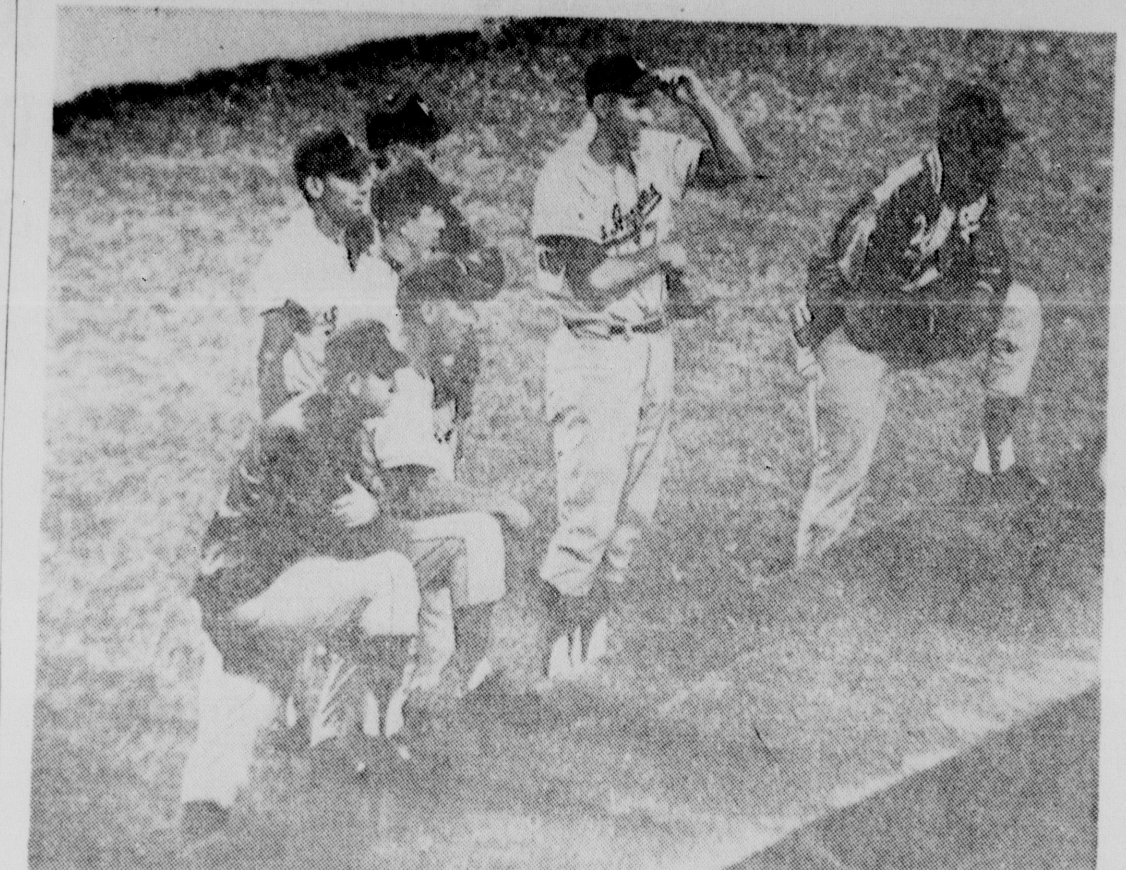
Bum-Buc Game Postponed By Heavy Rains

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Heavy rain forced postponement of the Pittsburgh-Los Angeles baseball game Monday night.

Because of the importance of the game to the National League pennant race, officials waited nearly two hours before postponing the game.

It was rescheduled as part of a twi-night doubleheader Tuesday.



MEMBERS of the Los Angeles Dodgers watch as the Forbes Field ground crew tries to get the automatic tarpaulin back in its hole last night. The crew had it's troubles though and by the time they had the tarp working the rain started again. The game between the Dodgers and Pittsburgh had to be called. A twilight doubleheader was scheduled for today. (AP Wirephoto)

Finley Asks Frick Withdraw His Apology To Ernie Mehl

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, has asked Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to withdraw an apology Frick made to Ernie Mehl, sports editor of the Kansas City Star, "both personally and in the name of baseball."

Finley made the request in a 20-page letter addressed to Frick and dated Sept. 5. The Athletics office said Monday copies of the letter were distributed to season ticket holders and people on a mailing list supplied by the Chamber of Commerce.

Finley accused Frick of failing to investigate before making the apology and suggested that under the Major League Agreement the commisisoner should have taken action against Mehl.

The apology stemmed from Finley's action in publicly making a "posion pen award" to Mehl after the sports editor had written several articles criticizing Finley's handling of the baseball club.

As Finley described the award in his letter:

"It was amusing and was accepted in this light by the fans and by everyone else."

The incident occurred at the start of a doubleheader at Municipal Stadium here Aug. 20.

On Aug. 23 Frick told The Associated Press in New York:

"Such things do not belong in baseball and I called Mehl this morning and apologized to him, both personally and in the name of baseball."

Frick said he had asked Finley for a full report on the incident.

In a covering letter, dated Sept. 21, Finley said:

"I met last Thursday with Mr. Frick for two hours in Chicago, at which time he stated to me that he did not apologize personally to Mr. Mehl . . . Mr. Frick further stated that since the press had quoted him as apologizing personally to Mr. Mehl, that he would take steps to correct this misunderstanding."

Finley wrote Frick:

"If any damage was done to baseball it was done by Mr. Mehl attacking the character, reputation, integrity, veracity and general ability of a major league club owner. My I suggest the thought that the appropriate action in this situation might well have been dictated by article 1, section 4, of the Major League Agreement, which clearly permits the commissioner to take steps against persons other than league members and players whose conduct adversely affects the game of baseball . . .

"If any 'apology' is due, it should come to me, because I have done no moral wrong but have myself been the victim of one of the most scurrilous attacks in baseball history."

Much of the letter consisted of a point-by-point rebuttal of charges Mehl made in his articles.

Finely referred at one point to an article published Aug. 17, in which the sports writer said, "A number of scouts are threatening to quit." The owner wrote Frick: "To my knowledge no scouts have threatened to quit." The word "no" was underlined.

Monday it was learned that six scouts have quit, indicating dissatisfaction with the A's operation.

FOR ANOTHER YEAR

Lopez Contracts With Sox Again

By JOE MOASHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Al Lopez signed Monday to pilot the Chicago White Sox for another year despite having one of the worst seasons of his managerial career.

His salary was unannounced, but reportedly it was near $50,000.

Until the Sox finished third last year, Lopez never had managed a team lower than second place. This year the Sox will finish fourth.

But this doesn't dishearten Lopez. "Sure, I'm disappointed in our club's performance, but that doesn't mean we don't have a good club," he said.

"Wholesale trades? I wouldn't say that but I think we have good trading material."

Lopez, the only manager to crack New York Yankee superiority since 1949 with pennant winners at Cleveland in 1954 and Chicago in 1959, is going to shoot for the flag in 1962.

"Why not?" says the patient senor. "We have an excellent nucleus."

Three strong armed pitchers, several proven stars and a few youngsters comprise the nucleus which Lopez and Ed Short, the Sox general manager believe will pull the Sox back into pennant contention.

The pitchers are left-handers Juan Pizarro, 24, and Frank Baumann, 28 and right-hander Ray Herbert 31. The proven stars are shortstop Luis Aparicio and center fielder Jim Landis. The youngsters are outfielder Floyd Robinson, infielder J. C. Martin and catcher Camilo Carreon.

This means such veterans as outfielder Minnie Minoso, first baseman Roy Sievers, catcher Sherm Lollar, even second baseman Nellie Fox and possibly infielder-outfielder Al Smith could be put up as trade bait. Of this group only Smith has had a good year.

Minoso was hampered by injuries early in the season. Sievers has been hot and cold, Fox has had one of his worst years, and the nearly two decades of professional baseball have taken a lot out of 37-year-old Lollar.

Lopez does not believe the Yankees are as strong as their run for the pennant this year would indicate.

"Sure, they've had a great year," he said. "But we made things easier for them. Our club didn't play up to expectations. Neither did Cleveland and Baltimore. Detroit gave them the best run and they surprised me by hanging on as long as they did. They did a helluva job.

"Our league will get stronger next year because we'll have worked out our expansion experiment. With a stronger league nobody can run away with the pennant and several teams might be fighting for the title next September.

"Our first job will be to revamp the bullpen," Lopez continued. "Then we hope to add to our pitching staff and gradually get around to balancing our club. Pitching, defense and power all are important but the real solution is balance."

BATTING LEADERS

Orlando Cepeda Leading Giants

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)— By increasing his leads in the National League home run and runs-batted-in competition San Francisco slugger Orlando Cepeda has virtually achieved a "first" for a Giants' ballplayer.

Cepeda walloped five homers and drove in nine runs last week, boosting his totals to 45 home runs and 136 RBI. Teammate Willie Mays is second in homers with 39 while Cincinnati's Frank Robinson is a distant runner-up in the RBI race with 121.

No Giant ever has owned outright both the homer and RBI titles. Giant players have won the runs-batted-in championship six times. When Monte Irvin won it in 1951 the home run king was Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner. Johnny Mize was the leader in 1947, but he shared the homer crown with Kiner. Mize also was the top RBI man in 1942, but Mel Ott, also of the Giants, hit the most homers.

Ott drove in the most runs in 1934 when he shared the home run title with Rip Collins of St. Louis. Jake Fournier of Brooklyn had the most homers in 1924 when Long George Kelley of the Giants drove in the most runs. And in 1923 when Irish Meusel of the Giants had the top RBI total the home run champ was Fred Williams of Philadelphia.

With only one week remaining in the 1961 campaign, only the outcome of the American League runs batted in race appears in doubt among the major batting departments.

Jim Gentile of Baltimore drove in seven runs last week and closed in on pace-setting Roger Maris of New York. Maris, who leads with 59 homers, had only two RBI for a season's total of 1405 Gentile has 138 followed by Detroit's Rocky Colavito with 135.

Norm Cash of Detroit has just about clinched the American League batting title. He has a .356 average, a drop of thee points from last week. Elston Howard of New York owns a .359 mark, but he will not qualify for the championship. He has 462 total appearances on 432 official at bats, 25 walks, four sacrifices and one hit by pitch. Under AL rules, 502 total appearances are necessary for title consideration. The Yanks have only five games left to play.

Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh holds a 13-point lead over Cincinnati's Vada Pinson in the National League batting chase. Clemente is at .35 and Pinson at .342.

Braves Take Tighter Grip On 4th Spot

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves strengthened their hold on fourth place by defeating the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 Monday night before a chilled crowd of 4,689, the smallest turnout in County Stadium history.

Carl Willey, with ninth-inning relief from Don McMahon, earned his sixth victory in 18 decisions as the Braves moved two games ahead of the Cardinals in the battle for a share of world series money.

Hank Aaron hit his 34th homer in the first inning and the Braves added another run in the fourth on a single by Joe Adcock, Joe Torre's double to deep center and a balk by rookie Ray Washburn.

Willey was replaced by McMahon after Julian Javier opened the ninth with a walk. Javier moved to third on a double by Ken Boyer and scored on an infield out by Stan Musial.

Faircloth Back At Quarterback With Mangham

MANGHAM, La. (Special) — Dee Faircloth, senior letterman the Mangham Dragon followers are calling "the classiest quarterback around," will be ready for fullscale duty when the Dragons meet the Lake Providence Panthers here Friday night.

Faircloth has been sidelined by injury.

Principal Bennie Hixson of Mangham has proclaimed it "Dads' Night" at Mangham and fathers of Dragon players will have special sideline seats for the game, second in 2-B conference play for Coach Armed Mathews' boys who came out of last week's Sicily Island game in good condition.

"Lake Providence has lost three games, but the Panthers are a much better team than that indicates," the Dragons were warned as they started work for the game.

DISTRICT SCRAPS

District Tilts Are Highlight Of Grid Program In Area

Important district games take the main billing this weekend as Northeast Louisiana football swings into the third week of action.

Of 20 games slated for Thursday and Friday nights, 14 are conference scraps.

Three clubs go into action Thursday night, with the Neville—Jena game in Jena heading the list.

The Tigers should have little trouble subduing the Giants. Last Friday they opened proceedings in 2-AA with a 33-3 shallacking of Haynesville. This boosted Neville's season mark to 3 - 0. Other wins were over AAA clubs West Monroe 12-6 and Bastrop 12-7.

Jena, after a fairly strong start, has slumped a little each game. They lost to AAA Ouachita 6-0 first, then to AA LaSalle 20-7 and last week Double A Ferriday walloped them 46-6.

IMPORTANT AAA TILTS

The Twin - Cities elevens play Friday night in major conference games.

Byrd of Shreveport comes here for a clash with West Monroe. The Yellow Jackets copped 1-AAA last year and have downed Minden (21-0) and Longview, Tex. (21-8) after an opening season loss to powerful Sulphur 13-7.

West Monroe recovered from its loss to Neville and tobbled Bolton 27-19 and Jonesboro 39-6.

Ouachita, undefeated in three games, may run into serious trouble. They go to Shreveport to play Woodlawn, the Cinderella team of the district.

The Knights, winless last year in their inaugural football season, are undefeated this fall. They have district win over Bastrop 12-0 Friday night) and Fair Park 12-6, plus a 13-6 nudge of North Caddo.

Ouachita used its strong defense to down Jena (6-0), Jonesboro (7-6) and Ruston (6-0).

Other clubs suiting up Thursday are Southside of Monroe, which goes to Holly Ridge in a 2-B conflict, and Crowville, which hosts the Jena B team.

Southside's Pelicans will be seeking their first win. They lost to Waterproof 26-0, Mangham 33-6 and Davidson 33-6.

EAGLES UNDEFEATED

Holly Ridge is 1-0 in the district and 2-0-1 for the season with wins over Rayville 6-0, and Lake Providence 12 - 7 and a 7-7 tie with Delhi.

Crowville also seeks win number one after losses to Davidson (26-0), Sicily Island (34-0) and Newellton (33-7).

Jonesboro hosts Minden, Homer goes to Ruston and Haynesville travels to LaSalle in three non-conference tilts rounding out the activity in area Double - A.

Jonesboro, with three losses, will try for its first win against Minden. The Tide is also winless. Minden lost to Bossier City 38-7 last week.

Homer was dropped by Class A Winnfield 26-0 Friday, while Rutson lost to Ouachita (6-D).

Haynesville is also after its first victory against LaSalle's undefeated Class A Tigers. LaSalle topped Delhi (20-6), Jena (20-7) and Winnsboro (20-0) thus far.

WINNFIELD TRIES

Back to district proceedings, the 1-A champions from Winnfield try for conference victory number two in defense of their crown when they host Coushatta.

The Tigers, ranked No. 1 in the state again this year, defeated Mansfield 20-13 in the loop game and applied shutout wins over Ville Platte (19-0) and Homer (26-0) in their other outings.

Coushatta lost to Plain Dealing 20-19 and tied Bernice 0-0.

All - powerfull Ferriday, visions of state titles already in mind, entertaines Delhi in its second district encounter.

The Bulldogs own wins over Block (34-0), Rayville (14-6) and Jena (46-6).

Farmerville takes on Strong, Arkansas in an effort to get back on the win path after last week's 24-0 district loss to state champion Tallulah.

TROJANS SEEK

The Trojans try to make it two conference victories in a row in a game at Oak Grove.

Tallulah was routed by Cooper High of Vicksburg 47-7 in their inagural this year, but blanked Wisner (19-0) and Farmerville in next efforts.

Oak Grove got in the win column last Friday, defeating Sterlington 20-6. They had lost to Columbia (20-14) and Delhi (12-0 previously.

Another 2-A game pits Winnsboro at Rayville. Winnsboro lost its first game last week, 20-0 to LaSalle. They downed Newellton 13-6 and Columbia 9-0 before.

Rayville beat Lake Providence 12-6 last week after loses to Ferriday and Holly Ridge.

Logansport smashed Many 20-7, Joaquin Tex. 40-20 and Cotton Valley 14-0.

Arcadia is also unbeaten, having downed Benton (27-14), Junction City, Arkansas (7-6) and Ruston's B team (28-27).

WANT FIRST

Bernice wants its first district win in a home game with Haughton. The Bears lost to Farmerville (20-0), defeated Strong, Arkansas (19-0) and tied Coushatta (0-0).

Haughton lost to Fair Park's B team and Plain Dealing, while defending Benton.

Columbia plays Newellton in a non - district scrap at Newellton. Columbia is 1-1 with a win over Oak Grove (20-14) and a loss to Winnsboro. Newellton won its first game Friday night, toppling Crowville 33-7.

Lake Providence travels to Mangham seeking its first win in the second district 2-B game for both clubs. Mangham lost to powerful Sicily Island 26-0 last week while Rayville dropped Lake Providence 12-6.

Vidalia goes to Block of Jonesville for an important 2-B scrap. Vidalia may have the best chance of beating Sicily Island for the district title, but must get by the strong Jonesville eleven first. Vidalia had an open date last week after defeating St. Francisville 13-7 and Davidson 27-0 in the first two games. Block whalloped Newellton 26-7 two weeks ago but was free last Friday, also.

ROUGH ISLANDERS

Undefeated and unscored on Sicily Island goes after its second straight conference win, when Wisner invades Friday. Sicily Island smashed the Jena B team (25-0) in it's first three games.

Wisner dumped Waterproof 33-0 last week after losing to Tallulah in the opener.

Waterproof attempts to get in the scoring column again after two weeks of unproductive play. They travel to Davidson for a 2-AAA tilt.

Waterproof upended Southside 26-0 in its opener, then played a scoreless tie with Chamberlain Hunt Accademy of Mississippi and lost to Wisner.

Davidson has two wins and a loss under its belt. They toppled Southside 33-6 last week.

RANK NO. 9

Rebs Keep Berth In AAA Top Ten

By United Press International

Husky Holy Cross roared to its third straight win to stave off a determined bid by Istrouma to move atop United Press International's weekly top ten in Class AAA football.

The UPI coaches rating board chose Holy Cross as the No. 1 team in the state for the third straight week after the Tigers downed Nicholls 20-0 Sunday.

Istrouma jumped from third to second on the strength of a convinving 20-0 win over defending state titleholder Jesuit.

Istrouma's showing overshadowed a 19-7 win by Sulphur over Orange, Tex. Sulphur was second in last week's poll.

DeLaSalle moved past Jesuit for the fourth position by routing Baton Rouge 19-0. The Jesuit loss dropped them from fourth to sixth.

Byrd took over fifth place after posting a 21-8 win over Longview, Tex.

The first four teams in the ratings have identical 3-0 records.

Redemptorist of New Orleans, tied for tenth last week, moved into seventh place by posting its third staraight win, a 7-0 squeaker over East Jefferson.

The eighth slot was taken over by Bossier which beat Minden 28-6 last week. Bossier, too, is undefeated in three outings.

West Monroe and Lake Charles have the ninth and tenth place respectively. West Monroe clobbered Jonesboro 39-6 to move to a 3-0 mark and Lake Charles nipped Pineville 9-0. Lake Challes is now 2-1 after suffering a 7-0 loss to Istrouma to open its season.

In another Sunday game, Fortier defeated Chalmette 18 - 13 at Chalmette. It was Fortier's first win.

Games involving the top ten this week include: Holy Cross vs. Baton Rouge; Istrouma vs. Bolton; Sulphur vs. South Park; DeLaSalle vs. East Jefferson; Byrd vs. West Monroe; Jesuit vs. Lafayette; Redemptorist vs. Warren Easton; Bossier vs. Bastrop; and Lake Charles vs. Beaumont, Tex.

RONNIE MYRICK, freshman quarterback from Oak Grove, is one of the classiest performers to don the Maroon of Nortreast State in many a day. He had a good night against Lamar Tech Saturday and could be the ingredients needed to Coach Jack Rowan's Indian attack on the warpath this year.

LIKE AT OAK GROVE

Myrick Dynamite In Indian Attack

Freshman quarterback Ronnie Myrick gained only three yards in Northeast State's first game but his dazzling offensive show against Lamar Tech last Saturday has vaulted him to the top of his team's total offense statistics.

Young Myrick led the Indians in rushing and passing and scored 12 points against Lamar and, after two games, has a total of 193 yards. Besides being Northeast's total offense leader, Myrick paces the club in passing and scoring and rates 5th in rushing. He has completed seven of 14 passes for 148 yards, has scored three touchdowns and has gained 45 yards on seven rushes.

Work horse fullback Willie Ragan is setting the pace for Tribe rushers with 124 yards, a total that also gives him second place in total offense. His total of 20 offensive plays is second only to Myrick's 21. Ragan saw his conversion string broken against Lamar when one of his kicks was deflected and he now stands at eight for nine in the extra point department.

Quarterback Don Wattigny ranks third in Northeast total offense with 47 yards rushing and 37 passing. Halfback Ken Newton is fourth with 71 yards, all on the ground, and fullback Devone Payne has 67 yards, also only from rushes.

End Dewey "Bo Dick" Smith is the Indians' leading pass receiver with three catches for 112 yards. Don Blackwelder leads the club in kickoff returns with two returns for 58 yards while Newton paces the team in punt returns with one for 10 yards.

Gordon Salsman continues to be the team's only punter. He has kicked 10 times for a 33.8-yard average.

In team statistics, Northeast leads its opponents in all departments except passes attempted, yards passing and first downs by penalties.

TECH NO. 2 SMALL COLLEGE

Mighty Ole Miss No. 1 By Dunkel

The University of Mississippi football team has wasted no time in pointing for another national championship, according to the Dunkel Ratings.

Victor by 16-0 over Arkansas in last Saturday's opener, Ole Miss heads the national list of teams that have played one or more games, with a rating of 112.1. This is slightly higher than the 111.7 figure with which the Rebels topped the 1960 final rankings.

Mississippi owes its present position to the 16-point scoring margin over opposition indexed at 96.1 for the total of 112.1.

The next three won their Saturday openers as follows: Missouri, 28-6 over Washington State; Purdue, 13-6 over Washington; and Penn State, 20-10 over Navy.

The Dunkel system, a progressive index of difference by score, now shows the following rankings by official major and small college classifications:

Lowe Threatened With Losing His Rushing Crown

DALLAS (AP)—Leaders held on in statistics of the American Football League last week but Paul Lowe of San Diego, No. 1 in rushing, was in grave danger of being supplanted.

Lowe had a poor day against Houston Sunday and now shows only 195 yards in 47 carries for a 4.1 average. Jack Spikes of Dallas moved within 15 yards of him although carrying only 16 times.

A fantastic mark has been compiled by Elbert Dubenion of Buffalo, who has carried only four times but averaged 29.5.

Al Dorow of New York stayed out front in passing. He has completed 48 of 95 for 584 yards and nine touchdowns. Ed Songin of Boston is second with 25 of 54 for 435 yards.

Lionel Taylor of Denver took over the lead in pass-receiving with 26 catches for 336 yards. Gino Cappelletti of Boston stayed ahead in scoring as he ran his season total to 40 points.

Dick Christy of New York leads in punt returns with a 36.5-yards average on four runs. Frank Jackson of Dallas tops the kick-off returners with a 30-yards average on six.

Neville Handles Jena Pasteboard

Neville High is handling an advanced sale of tickets for their Thursday night game with the Jena High Giants at Jena, and Tiger fans may get their tickets at the school office anytime during school hours.

"We also want to remind our fans that this is a Thursday game and not Friday as so many of our pre-season circulated schedules say," Principal Sidney Seegers of Neville said.

The game was moved to the Thursday date at the request of Jena principal Darden Brooks two weeks ago to avoid a conflict with the LaSalle Parish Fair.

DISTRICT SCRAPS

District Tilts Are Highlight Of Grid Program In Area

Important district games take the main billing this weekend as Northeast Louisiana football swings into the third week of action.

Of 20 games slated for Thursday and Friday nights, 14 are conference scraps.

Three clubs go into action Thursday night, with the Neville—Jena game in Jena heading the list.

The Tigers should have little trouble subduing the Giants. Last Friday they opened proceedings in 2-AA with a 53-3 shallacking of Haynesville. This boosted Neville's season mark to 3 - 0. Other wins were over AAA clubs West Monroe 12-6 and Bastrop 12-7.

Jena, after a fairly strong start, has slumped a little each game. They lost to AAA Ouachita 6-0 first, then to AA LaSalle 20-7 and last week Double A Ferriday walloped them 46-6.

IMPORTANT AAA TILTS

The Twin - Cities elevens play Friday night in major conference games.

Byrd of Shreveport comes here for a clash with West Monroe. The Yellow Jackets copped 1-AAA last year and have downed Minden (21-0) and Longview, Tex. (21-8) after an opening season loss to powerful Sulphur 13-7.

West Monroe recovered from its loss to Neville and tobbled Bolton 27-19 and Jonesboro 39-6.

Ouachita, undefeated in three games, may run into serious trouble. They go to Shreveport to play Woodlawn, the Cinderella team of the district.

The Knights, winless last year in their inaugural football season, are undefeated this fall. They have district win over Bastrop 12-0 Friday night) and Fair Park 12-6, plus a 13-6 nudge of North Caddo.

Ouachita used its strong defense to down Jena (6-0), Jonesboro (7-6) and Ruston (6-0).

Other clubs suiting up Thursday are Southside of Monroe, which goes to Holly Ridge in a 2-B conflict, and Crowville, which hosts the Jena B team.

Southside's Pelicans will be seeking their first win. They lost to Waterproof 26-0, Mangham 33-6 and Davidson 33-6.

EAGLES UNDEFEATED

Holly Ridge is 1-0 in the district and 2-0-1 for the season with wins over Rayville 6-0, and Lake Providence 12 - 7 and a 7-7 tie with Delhi.

Crowville also seeks win number one after losses to Davidson (26-0), Sicily Island (34-0) and Newellton (33-7).

Jonesboro hosts Minden, Homer goes to Ruston and Haynesville travels to LaSalle in three nonconference tilts rounding out the activity in area Double - A.

Jonesboro, with three losses, will try for its first win against Minden. The Tide is also winless. Minden lost to Bossier City 38-7 last week.

Homer was dropped by Class A Winnfield 26-0 Friday, while Rutson lost to Ouachita (6-D).

Haynesville is also after its first victory against LaSalle's undefeated Class A Tigers. LaSalle topped Delhi (20-6), Jena (20-7) and Winnsboro (20-0) thus far.

WINNFIELD TRIES

Back to district proceedings, the 1-A champions from Winnfield try for conference victory number two in defense of their crown when they host Coushatta.

The Tigers, ranked No. 1 in the state again this year, defeated Mansfield 20-13 in the loop game and applied shutout wins over Ville Platte (19-0) and Homer (26-0) in their other outings.

Coushatta lost to Plain Dealing 20-19 and tied Bernice 0-0.

All - powerfull Ferriday, visions of state titles already in mind, entertaines Delhi in its second district encounter.

The Bulldogs own wins over Block (34-0), Rayville (14-6) and Jena (46-6).

Farmerville takes on Strong, Arkansas in an effort to get back on the win path after last week's 24-0 district loss to state champion Tallulah.

TROJANS SEEK

The Trojans try to make it two conference victories in a row in a game at Oak Grove.

Tallulah was routed by Cooper High of Vicksburg 47-7 in their inagural this year, but blanked Wisner (19-0) and Farmerville in next efforts.

Oak Grove got in the win column last Friday, defeating Sterlington 20-6. They had lost to Columbia (20-14) and Delhi (12-0 previously.

Another 2-A game pits Winnsboro at Rayville. Winnsboro lost its first game last week, 20-0 to LaSalle. They downed Newellton 13-6 and Columbia 9-0 before.

Rayville beat Lake Providence 12-6 last week after loses to Ferriday and Holly Ridge.

In a heated 1- B race Arcadia tries to get league win number two against strong Logansport there.

Logansport smashed Many 20-7, Joaquin Tex. 40-20 and Cotton Valley 14-0.

Arcadia is also unbeaten, having downed Benton (27-14), Junction City, Arkansas (7-6) and Ruston's B team (28-27).

WANT FIRST

Bernice wants its first district win in a home game with Haughton. The Bears lost to Farmerville (20-0), defeated Strong, Arkansas (19-0) and tied Coushatta (0-0).

Haughton lost to Fair Park's B team and Plain Dealing, while defending Benton.

Columbia plays Newellton in a non - district scrap at Newellton. Columbia is 1-1 with a win over Oak Grove (20-14) and a loss to Winnsboro. Newellton won its first game Friday night, toppling Crowville 33-7.

Lake Providence travels to Mangham seeking its first win in the second district 2-B game for both clubs. Mangham lost to powerful Sicily Island 26-0 last week while Rayville dropped Lake Providence 12-6.

Vidalia goes to Block of Jonesville for an important 2-B scrap. Vidalia may have the best chance of beating Sicily Island for the district title, but must get by the strong Jonesville eleven first. Vidalia had an open date last week after defeating St. Francisville 13-7 and Davidson 27-0 in the first two games. Block whalloped Newellton 26-7 two weeks ago but was free last Friday, also.

ROUGH ISLANDERS

Undefeated and unscored on Sicily Island goes after its second straight conference win, when Wisner invades Friday. Sicily Island smashed the Jena B team (25-0) in it's first three games.

Wisner dumped Waterproof 33-0 last week after losing to Tallulah in the opener.

Waterproof attempts to get in the scoring column again after two weeks of unproductive play. They travel to Davidson for a 2-AAA tilt.

Waterproof upended Southside 26-0 in its opener, then played a scoreless tie with Chamberlain Hunt Accademy of Mississippi and lost to Wisner.

Davidson has two wins and a loss under its belt. They toppled Southside 33-6 last week.

RANK NO. 9

Rebs Keep Berth In AAA Top Ten

By United Press International

Husky Holy Cross roared to its third straight win to stave off a determined bid by Istrouma to move atop United Press International's weekly top ten in Class AAA football.

The UPI coaches rating board chose Holy Cross as the No. 1 team in the state for the third straight week after the Tigers downed Nicholls 20-0 Sunday.

Istrouma jumped from third to second on the strength of a convinving 20-0 win over defending state titleholder Jesuit.

Istrouma's showing overshadowed a 19-7 win by Sulphur over Orange, Tex. Sulphur was second in last week's poll.

DeLaSalle moved past Jesuit for the fourth position by routing Baton Rouge 19-0. The Jesuit loss dropped them from fourth to sixth.

Byrd took over fifth place after posting a 21-8 win over Longview, Tex.

The first four teams in the ratings have identical 3-0 records.

Redemptorist of New Orleans, tied for tenth last week, moved into seventh place by posting its third staraight win, a 7-0 squeaker over East Jefferson.

The eighth slot was taken over by Bossier which beat Minden 28-6 last week. Bossier, too, is undefeated in three outings.

West Monroe and Lake Charles have the ninth and tenth place respectively. West Monroe clobbered Jonesboro 39-6 to move to a 3-0 mark and Lake Charles nipped Pineville 9-0. Lake Challes is now 2-1 after suffering a 7-0 loss to Istrouma to open its season.

In another Sunday game, Fortier defeated Chalmette 18 - 13 at Chalmette. It was Fortier's first win.

Games involving the top ten this week include: Holy Cross vs. Baton Rouge; Istrouma vs. Bolton; Sulphur vs. South Park; DeLaSalle vs. East Jefferson; Byrd vs. West Monroe; Jesuit vs. Lafayette; Redemptorist vs. Warren Easton; Bossier vs. Bastrop; and Lake Charles vs. Beaumont, Tex.

Teams	Total Points

LIKE AT OAK GROVE

Myrick Dynamite In Indian Attack

Freshman quarterback Ronnie Myrick gained only three yards in Northeast State's first game but his dazzling offensive show against Lamar Tech last Saturday has vaulted him to the top of his team's total offense statistics.

Young Myrick led the Indians in rushing and passing and scored 12 points against Lamar and, after two games, has a total of 193 yards. Besides being Northeast's total offense leader, Myrick paces the club in passing and scoring and rates 5th in rushing. He has completed seven of 14 passes for 148 yards, has scored three touchdowns and has gained 45 yards on seven rushes.

Work horse fullback Willie Ragan is setting the pace for Tribe rushers with 124 yards, a total that also gives him second place in total offense. His total of 20 offensive plays is second only to Myrick's 21. Ragan saw his conversion string broken against Lamar when one of his kicks was deflected and he now stands at eight for nine in the extra point department.

Quarterback Don Wattigny ranks third in Northeast total offense with 47 yards rushing and 37 passing. Halfback Ken Newton is fourth with 71 yards, all on the ground, and fullback Devone Payne has 67 yards, also only from rushes.

End Dewey "Bo Dick" Smith is the Indians' leading pass receiver with three catches for 112 yards. Don Blackwelder leads the club in kickoff returns with two returns for 58 yards while Newton paces the team in punt returns with one for 10 yards.

Gordon Salsman continues to be the team's only punter. He has kicked 10 times for a 33.8-yard average.

In team statistics, Northeast leads its opponents in all departments except passes attempted, yards passing and first downs by penalties.

TECH NO. 2 SMALL COLLEGE

Mighty Ole Miss No. 1 By Dunkel

The University of Mississippi football team has wasted no time in pointing for another national championship, according to the Dunkel Ratings.

Victor by 16-0 over Arkansas in last Saturday's opener, Ole Miss heads the national list of teams that have played one or more games, with a rating of 112.1. This is slightly higher than the 111.7 figure with which the Rebels topped the 1960 final rankings.

Mississippi owes its present position to the 16-point scoring margin over opposition indexed at 96.1 for the total of 112.1.

The next three won their Saturday openers as follows: Missouri, 28-6 over Washington State; Purdue, 13-6 over Washington; and Penn State, 20-10 over Navy.

The Dunkel system, a progressive index of difference by score, now shows the following rankings by official major and small college classifications:

Tomorrow: Rating comparisons for next week-end's games.

Lowe Threatened With Losing His Rushing Crown

DALLAS (AP)—Leaders held on in statistics of the American Football League last week but Paul Lowe of San Diego, No. 1 in rushing, was in grave danger of being supplanted.

Lowe had a poor day against Houston Sunday and now shows only 195 yards in 47 carries for a 4.1 average. Jack Spikes of Dallas moved within 15 yards of him although carrying only 16 times.

A fantastic mark has been compiled by Elbert Dubenion of Buffalo, who has carried only four times but averaged 29.5.

Al Dorow of New York stayed out front in passing. He has completed 48 of 95 for 584 yards and nine touchdowns. Ed Songin of Boston is second with 25 of 54 for 435 yards.

Lionel Taylor of Denver took over the lead in pass-receiving with 26 catches for 336 yards. Gino Cappelletti of Boston stayed ahead in scoring as he ran his season total to 40 points.

Dick Christy of New York leads in punt returns with a 36.5-yards average on four runs. Frank Jackson of Dallas tops the kick-off returners with a 30-yards average on six.

Neville Handles Jena Pasteboard

Neville High is handling an advanced sale of tickets for their Thursday night game with the Jena High Giants at Jena, and Tiger fans may get their tickets at the school office anytime during school hours.

"We also want to remind our fans that this is a Thursday game and not Friday as so many of our pre-season circulated schedules say," Principal Sidney Seegers of Neville said.

The game was moved to the Thursday date at the request of Jena principal Darden Brooks two weeks ago to avoid a conflict with the LaSalle Parish Fair.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

DOES GETTING UP NIGHTS MAKE YOU FEEL OLD

After 35, common Kidney or Bladder Irritations often occur and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. Secondarily, you may lose sleep and suffer from Headaches, Backache and feel old, tired, depressed. In such irritation, CYSTEX usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by curbing irritating germs in strong, acid urine and by giving analgesic pain relief. Get CYSTEX at druggists. Cheer up and feel better fast.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

"AND THAT'S YOUR IDEA OF A PRIMITIVE STANDARD OF LIVING... NO TELEVISION?"

EXPRESSING INTENTION

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some long-term planning is evident in a reply to an alumni questionnaire by a recent graduate of Ohio State University.

Asked whether he is married, the grad replied "no." He added, "Watch this space."

Applause Halts Kennedy Speech On Six Points

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—President Kennedy was interrupted by applause six times Monday during his address to the U. N. General Assembly. These were the points:

1. In reference to troika, when the President said even a troika drawn by three horses has but one driver.

2. A statement saying "Mankind must abolish war or war will abolish mankind."

3. In a reference to colonialism—"Let us debate colonialism in full—and apply the principles of free choice and the practice of free plebiscites in every corner of the globe."

4. In a reference to Berlin—"We cannot fail these commitments. We cannot surrender the freedom of these people for whom we are responsible."

5. The pledge—"We shall neither flee nor invoke the threat of force. We shall never negotiate out of fear and never fear to negotiate."

DOES GETTING UP NIGHTS MAKE YOU FEEL OLD
After 35, common Kidney or Bladder Irritations often occur and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. Secondarily, you may lose sleep and suffer from Headaches, Backache and feel old, tired, depressed. In such irritation, CYSTEX usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by curbing irritating germs in strong, acid urine and by giving analgesic pain relief. Get CYSTEX at druggists. Cheer up and feel better fast.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed unchanged to 20 cents lower Monday.

Trading was fairly active and pivoted on switching operations from nearby October to later months, following issuance of 88 October delivery notices at New York. All were reported stopped by the close of trading.

Distant months showed gains in early dealings but later eased as commission house selling increased.

Declines in futures were checked on buying, influenced by the lateness of the cotton crop, small cotton ginnings and reports of further insect activity and damage to cotton in parts of the western belt, according to spot house survey.

The Census Bureau reported cotton ginnings through Sept. 15 of 1,113,577 running bales, off 804,566 bales compared with ginnings in the like period a year ago.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The feed-grains were under fairly heavy selling pressure most of the time Monday on the Board of Trade and losses ran to more than a cent a bushel while the futures market otherwise held steady to firm.

Nearly all corn contracts were off about a cent, oats almost two cents in spots. Brokers said the selling was largely liquidation. It started, they said, with scattered profit-taking in corn after that grain worked slightly higher in early dealings.

Soybeans leaped ahead with gains of well over a cent a bushel generally during the first several minutes but profit-takers raked them off and at one time nearly all the advance had been lost. Scattered buying near the close, however, restored a small part of the advance.

Brokers ascribed the initial strength to heavy rainfall during the weekend over virtually all the major soybean producing area of the Midwest. They said it probably had stalled the harvest for several days.

At the close, wheat was ¼-⅜ cent a bushel higher, December $2.07⅛-07; corn ⅞-1⅛ lower, December $1.10½⅝; oats 1⅛-1⅞ lower, December 70½-¼; rye ½ higher to ¾ lower, December $1.34⅞-35; soybeans ¼-⅜ higher, November $2.39½⅜.

Dealers described the support for wheat as largely export buying.

Foresight Saga...

We mean the story of foresight displayed by some 13,000,000 Americans who own common stocks, who have put their money to work where it might grow with the years and bring them additional income each year besides.

What kind of growth?

Well, one leading index of stock prices has shown an average annual growth of 3% a year since the turn of the century. And dividend income for the 9 out of 10 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange that paid dividends last year currently averages better than 3½%.

Of course, some investors have shown more foresight and consequently made more money from their investments than others. And some have even lost money because stock prices can go down as well as up.

Not sure about your foresight? Like to check your opinions with ours?

Any of our account executives will be glad to tell you exactly what our Research Department thinks about prospects for any of the stocks in which most investors are interested. No charge, no obligation. Just call, come in or write—

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed unchanged to 20 cents lower Monday.

Trading was fairly active and pivoted on switching operations from nearby October to later months, following issuance of 88 October delivery notices at New York. All were reported stopped by the close of trading.

Distant months showed gains in early dealings but later eased as commission house selling increased.

Declines in futures were checked on buying, influenced by the lateness of the cotton crop, small cotton ginnings and reports of further insect activity and damage to cotton in parts of the western belt, according to spot house survey.

The Census Bureau reported cotton ginnings through Sept. 15 of 1,113,577 running bales, off 804,566 bales compared with ginnings in the like period a year ago.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The feed-grains were under fairly heavy selling pressure most of the time Monday on the Board of Trade and losses ran to more than a cent a bushel while the futures market otherwise held steady to firm.

Nearly all corn contracts were off about a cent, oats almost two cents in spots. Brokers said the selling was largely liquidation. It started, they said, with scattered profit-taking in corn after that grain worked slightly higher in early dealings.

Soybeans leaped ahead with gains of well over a cent a bushel generally during the first several minutes but profit-takers raked them off and at one time nearly all the advance had been lost. Scattered buying near the close, however, restored a small part of the advance.

Brokers ascribed the initial strength to heavy rainfall during the weekend over virtually all the major soybean producing area of the Midwest. They said it probably had stalled the harvest for several days.

At the close, wheat was ¼-⅜ cent a bushel higher, December $2.07⅛-07; corn ⅞-1⅛ lower, December $1.10½⅝; oats 1⅛-1⅞ lower, December 70½-¼; rye ½ higher to ¾ lower, December $1.34⅞-35; soybeans ¼-⅝ higher, November $2.39½⅜.

Dealers described the support for wheat as largely export buying.

Foresight Saga...

We mean the story of foresight displayed by some 13,000,000 Americans who own common stocks, who have put their money to work where it might grow with the years and bring them additional income each year besides.

What kind of growth?

Well, one leading index of stock prices has shown an average annual growth of 3% a year since the turn of the century. And dividend income for the 9 out of 10 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange that paid dividends last year currently averages better than 3½%.

Of course, some investors have shown more foresight and consequently made more money from their investments than others. And some have even lost money because stock prices can go down as well as up.

Not sure about your foresight? Like to check your opinions with ours?

Any of our account executives will be glad to tell you exactly what our Research Department thinks about prospects for any of the stocks in which most investors are interested. No charge, no obligation. Just call, come in or write —

SALESMAN

WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE HOME WITH YOUR FAMILY EVERY NIGHT—STILL MAKE GOOD MONEY—WITH A FUTURE.

We are looking for a professional salesman with integrity, who is confident of his ability to sell, having proved it to everyone's satisfaction. This man works out of his own pride and desire to be outstanding in his chosen profession. He should be between 35 and 50 and have a family for whom he is determined to provide a better than average future. Starting salary $6500 per year plus expenses, plus opportunity to earn more, and no night-time selling. This is a National Firm." Reply Box 410 c/o News-Star.

Dierks Posts For Fences, Barns– Call Royal Feed

Have you looked at your fences recently?

Are they strong and tight?

Before you repair your fences, Royal Feed and Seed, 812 DeSiard in Monroe, invites you to drop in and look at their stock of Dierks pressure creosoted fence posts. These are the posts you have been reading about in your farm journals. They are made from sound, live southern pine timber, and are guaranteed to give you up to 30 years service.

Royal Feed and Seed is proud to sell these genuine pressure creo - soted posts because they know you'll get many, many years of trouble - free service from them. Remember, ask for Dierks. That's D-I-E-R-K-S.

Dierks pressure creosoted fence posts. Look for the aluminum trade mark tag with the big "D" in the center at Royal Feed and Seed, and if you are thinking about building a new barn, cattle shed, or machine shed, Royal Feed and Seed urges you to investigate the money savings features of pole construction. Farm structures built with pressure creosoted poles costs less to build and are cheaper to use and maintain. Call Royal Feed about Dierks pressure - creosoted barn poles, and information to help you plan and build.

Queen Elizabeth Holds Reception For Volunteers

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II held a Buckingham Palace reception Monday for 100 young Britons who gave a year of their lives to voluntary work in underdeveloped countries. The young men and women are members of Voluntary Service Overseas, the equivalent of the Peace Corps launched by President Kennedy after his inauguration.

British work has included tuberculosis surveys among Eskimos in Labrador, community development schemes among the Indians of British Guiana and the Dayaks of Sarawak, electric installations in Ethiopian villages, and teaching in the Falkland Islands and the Solomons. Volunteers are between 18 and 24, get bar subsistence on the job.

NAMED AMBASSADOR

LONDON (AP) — Ian Dixon Scott, former British ambassador to the Congo who was accused by India of hampering U.N. work in the troubled African republic, has been named British ambassador to the Sudan.

Green Bros
Milk

GREEN BROS. Quality Chekd Milk is a big favorite with children and grownups alike. Children have a keenly sensitive and highly critical taste . . . . especially when it comes to milk. What youngsters like most, they get in Green Bros. Milk. That's NATURALNESS of flavor! Green Bros. Dairy is careful to retain it, even through the most modern processing! Shown above is Billy "Chuck" Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy C. Vaughn enjoying the distinctive "real milk" flavor in a glass of Green Bros. Milk. (Staff Photo)

IT'S QUALITY CHEKD!

Green Bros. Has That Delicious Flavor–Plus

Flavor speaks louder than words . . . Green Bros. reminds residents of this area that in addition to the outstanding delicious flavor which their Quality Chekd milk has, that milk serves as nature's most nearly perfect food. Four glasses of Green Bros. milk, for instance, provides the same amount of calcium each day as 5 servings of vegetables and fruits, plus three servings meat and cereal. In addition to its extraordinary supply of calcium milk stands out in the quality of its body building proteins and in the health promoting vitamin — riboflavin. Without the regular use of milk you're almost sure to short yourself in some or all of these three essentials. Yes, what milk contributes cannot be replaced by any other one food nor by combinations of food we ordinarily eat in this country.

To point up just how valuable milk is to our health needs, Green Bros. quotes the following three authoritative sources:

U. S. Department of Agriculture: "Milk does more for the body than any other food. It provides high quality protein, calcium and vitamins A and G cheaply."

U. S. Public Health Service: "Of all the factors of man's environment, none is more important to his welfare than food. Of all foods, none is more important than milk."

The late Dr. Charles H. Mayo of Mayo Clinic fame: "Every person young or old, should drink milk. Milk contains a large variety of nutritional constituents and, considering its cost per pound more food for the money than any other food material available."

Calorie counters will be interested in knowing that whole milk has an energy value of 168 calories per glass, or 670 per quart. Skim milk, which Green Bros. is receiving more and more calls for, gives 85 calories per glass or 340 per quart.

If you're not already receiving Green Bros. Quality Chekd milk at your home, you may do so by calling FA 5-1717, or it's available at leading stores throughout this area.

Dodge Appointed To Information Post For Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maj Gen Charles G. Dodge, who has been in charge of Army Reserve matters, was named today to become Army chief of information on Oct. 1.

Dodge, 54, a native of Maplewood, N.J., will succeed Maj Gen William W. Quinn, who will become deputy director of the new Defense Department intelligence agency.

Dodge has been assistant chief of staff for Reserve components. In that job, he helped develop plans for the callup of National Guard and Reserve forces during the present military buildup.

Mann Machine Repairs Oil, Gas Field Equipment

Oil and gas field drilling companies look to Mann Machine Works for much of their overhauling and specialty jobs requiring skilled personnel.

As seen in the picture above, they can handle a job like mounting a casin pulling rig on a truck, repair and overhaul a mud hog pump — all in a spacious, modernly equipped shop on Cypress street, West Monroe.

But not only the oil and gas people find expert workmanship at Mann Machine. Others such as road building contractors, the many small industries around the Twin City area and trucking firms call on Mann for repair of both heavy and light equipment.

One of their specialties recently written up on this page was their portable welding trucks — all mounted and ready for action at a moment's notice when breakdowns occur in the field.

Mann Machine builds truck beds, oil derricks, strips track, and overhauls just about any kind of machinery.

Call Buddy Mann, owner of the West Monroe firm the next time you need machine repair.
